TALKED ON GRAFT

Interesting Address by
John C. Burke

At the Centralville Methodist church last evening, John C. Burke entertained a large audience with an address on "Graft."

He was introduced by Rev. J. T. Carleton and he spoke in part as follows:

"Twenty-five years ago a man had to fulfill his obligations, had to take care of his family, had to live straight or he was ostracized. Does he have to do all of these things now? Is a laxity in any one of them a bar to social or business success? Is it any wonder that men have risen to heights in the political world, when those who possess the ballot allow them to do so? If we have pure politics we must make up our minds to make great self sacrifices. The practical politicians can be removed, and in their stead can be chosen men who will take the office, not because they need or want them, but because they can fill them properly. We should elect men who can get an honest living in some other legitimate avenue of life. It will be a sacrifice for such men as these to give their time to municipal affairs, but it must be done for the good of the community. The remedy for grafting in municipalities lies in the hands of the people. If they will only get together, there is no need for discouragement. If we don't use the ballots properly we have no right to complain. And by using them rightly we can cut down this monster of graft."

During the evening Guy Johnson gave most effectively several bass solos, with Miss Allena E. Luce as the accompanist.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Spring is here! There's no further question about it, for today's Manchester Union had the following:

"Frank P. Thayne, manager of the Lowell Independents, a fast semi-professional team of Lowell, Mass., is anxious to secure games away from home for fast day and also for Saturdays and holidays during the season, in the state."

"Mr. Thayne's address is 429 Stevens street, Lowell, Mass."

"Doctor's Daughter"

Says: "I believe that much suffering and many diseases could be prevented if only taken in time. If you are suffering with some hidden trouble you should attend to it at once. Delays are dangerous and may lead to some chronic or fatal disease. The stomach and liver are the cause of much ill health and many fatal diseases. A little stomach trouble is easily cured, but if not attended to soon develops into a serious trouble. For stomach or liver trouble, Stomach-Rite has proven its worth and some of the cures have been really remarkable. It fills my heart with utter thankfulness to think that I have been able to relieve so much suffering among my fellow beings with my remedy. Stomach-Rite treats the stomach and intestinal tract, quickly relieving Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gas, Burning in Stomach or Mouth, and last but not least Constipation. FLUFFY RUFFLES

Violet Heming, the dainty little miss who assists Hattie Williams in the Suffragette scene in "Fluffy Ruffles," was recently asked to write her biography and this is what she said. Hemings have been in the profession from the days of Queen Elizabeth, when actors were styled "Rogues and Vagabonds." First Heming was publisher to Shakespeare's works. Great friends to Hall Caine, the novelist. It was at Greba Castle (Hall Caine's home) she first saw Vida Allen, being photographed on her lap as a little child.

Last season played Wendy in "Peter Pan." Only been on the stage one year.

Is a life governess of the Masonic Institution for Boys. Father a theatrical proprietor in England, owner of a theatre on the Isle of Man, where "The Christian" was first produced.

Has been in America two years. Uncle, Charles Barton, now with the "Toy Soldier," and another uncle, Fred Walton, star in vaudeville. Is devoted to the stage and wishes to become a dramatic star under Mr. Frohman.

MISS FIELDS' SHEATH GOWN

Since the first appearance of the famous French director gowns the stage has been made one of the most conspicuous exhibit grounds for this latest freak dress creation. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the stage can be made the stamping ground for any novelty in dress creation. Realizing the importance that the sheath gown would come to in her profession, Miss Marguerite Fields, who is Kirk Brown's leading woman, was one of the first purchasers of the expensive importation of sheath gowns that was displayed at Philippsbomes 230 St. Store, New York City last spring. Miss Fields' gown is said to be one of the most expensive that has ever been brought to this country. She will wear it during Mr. Brown's performance of Sarah Bernhardt's version of "Camille" at the Lowell Opera House Wednesday matinee.

Mr. Brown opens his special five days' engagement Tuesday matinee with a complete scenic production of the "Charity Ball."

One of the greatest of the recent Colonial war romances "Captain Barrington" is the Tuesday evening play.

ETHEL BARRYMORE

W. Somerset Maugham, the author of "Lady Frederick," in which Miss Ethel Barrymore will be seen at the Opera House on March 23rd.

JOHN MASON COMING

The management of the Opera House announces the engagement here at an early date for three performances of John Mason in "The Witching Hour." The company will be seen here immediately following the close of the Boston engagement and will be the same company and production.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Pauline, a noted hypnotist, will do a big business at Hathaway's theatre this week. Pauline is a man, a remarkable one, too, and his work carries with it much of conviction. It will convince the skeptical that there is a deal to hypnotism, when applied by one who has made a deep study of the subject. There is plenty of comedy to the act, and altogether it is quite the best demonstration of hypnotism yet seen here.

RENGO BELT CORSETS

have made such a remarkable impression upon our trade and have sold so quickly to those who have taken the trouble to examine them, that we propose to continue their sale indefinitely.

We attribute the success of this sale to the fact that the RENG0 BELT features of this corset actually compress the reduction of hips and produces beautifully moulded lines in the back and below the waist. RENG0 BELT is a new invention which develops wonderful curves in the medium and large figure, which does not make style at the sacrifice of comfort; and which does not consist of strapping or lacing of any sort. It is a part of the corset itself, shaped to perfect hips and back.

RENG0 BELT CORSETS also have other special advantages—they are boned throughout with double watchspring steel, which is rust-proof. The boning is perfectly covered before it is sewed into the corset, and is guaranteed not to break or bunch through.

If you have searched unsuccessfully for a corset that fits you, a RENG0 BELT perfectly fitted at our Corset Department will surely be found satisfactory.

WOMAN'S BODY

FOUND IN CANAL IN DAYTON, OHIO

DAYTON, O., March 12.—Another mystery confronts the police in the discovery yesterday of the decomposed body of an unknown white woman in the canal below the Apple street bridge. In the opinion of the officers, it must have lain in the water about a month. The woman apparently was 30 years old and well dressed. She was attired in black. Decomposition is feared, will prevent identification. The place where the body was found is distant from the nearest house.

FOR THREE DAYS MORE

I will continue the inauguration of my eleventh year in the low-price tailoring business of New England with the greatest offer of my career. I am going after you, Mr. Sun reader, hammer and tongs, with the most irresistible tailoring bargains ever made by man.

Below I present a likeness of my open-door

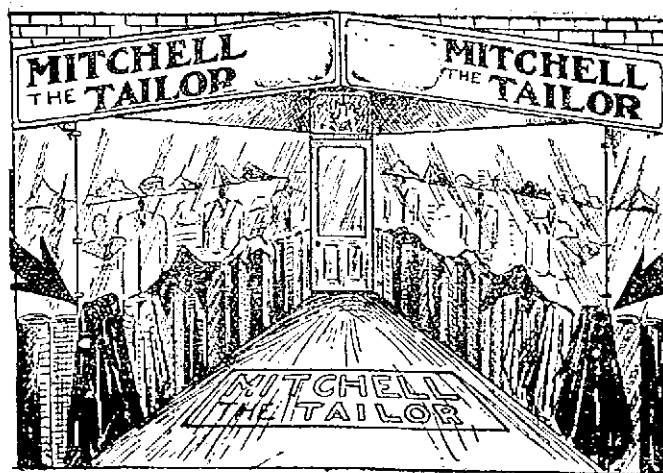

salesroom. This arrangement is designed to meet the requirements of men who are skeptical and who do not like to enter a store in search of things they fear they cannot get. I have therefore placed out in the street, where you can see, feel and handle them, woollens that I will match with the $40 suitings of any tailor in the land.

On the left side of the entrance is a blue serge of national repute, guaranteed 14 oz. weight, dyed in the wool and warranted to stand the test of sun and salt sea air. Examine this goods to your heart's content, without interference or solicitation, and if it meets with your approval, call my salesman and tell him to measure you for a suit and free pair of trousers--- the price to be $12.00 for the suit and pants.

On the right side of the door I show a 16 oz. black unfinished worsted made in the most famous mill of the Pawtucket Valley, sold by tailors all over this country for $28 to $40. Examine it: if you find it to be all I represent it, call my salesman, tell him to measure you for a suit with free trousers and the price is $12.00 for the suit and pants.

SUBURBAN BARGAIN DAY.

The board of trade is making a good move in its endeavor to establish a suburban bargain day in Lowell. Sufficient inducements can be offered to bring a large number of suburbanites into the city once a week. The railroad service may be increased if necessary to accommodate the patrons on any particular line; but that will be necessary only when the undertaking has been boomed to a successful issue.

SPEAKER CANNON REASSURED.

It looks now as if Speaker Cannon is assured of reelection. The members of the house, however, will make it uncomfortable for Mr. Cannon if he undertakes to use his power in an arbitrary manner to suppress any discussion or legislation which he considers distasteful to the republican party. Cannon is a rank partisan and he will go the limit unless he is tripped up by the opposition. The so-called "insurgents" in the republican party are not of much account, and if Cannon is to be restrained in his czar-like policy, it must be as a result of democratic opposition.

A WORD TO THE REPRESENTATIVES.

It is reported that some of the Lowell delegation to the legislature are opposed to the new charter. Any member who would oppose this movement for a new charter should be retired at the next election.

If any member does not approve the entire document, he should offer amendments to make it to his liking rather than oppose it in toto. The representative who is not manly enough to do that is not fit to represent any district in Lowell.

THE STANDARD OIL CASE.

The Standard Oil case has been dropped by the federal government in spite of all the talk there has been about the twenty-nine million dollar fine and the outrage as President Roosevelt called it of remitting that fine.

It seems to be up to the individual states to frame anti-trust laws that will prohibit the operation of trusts within their borders. The state of Texas and other western states have framed anti-trust laws for this purpose, laws that have already been successfully applied against the Standard Oil company. When the federal courts fail to do their duty it devolves upon the states individually to carry on the fight.

SUNDAY PICTURE SHOWS.

We are glad to note that Mayor Brown has at last seen the light in regard to allowing pictures shows to run on Sundays. "The Sunday picture shows," he is reported as saying, "must stop." That is right, Mr. Mayor. Now, keep to your decision and do not bother with public hearings on future applications at which the ministers, you say, will have an equal chance to be heard.

This community will not stand for a continuance of the picture shows on Sunday, no matter how many hearings may be held or what may be said at the hearings.

If any citizen wants a license to do what is wrong and demoralizing to the community, why should a public hearing be called to enable the mayor to decide whether such license should be granted?

Let the prohibition of Sunday picture shows be put in force without any strings to it and without any chance of evasion.

TAKING POWER FROM THE PEOPLE.

"We don't want the new charter because it takes power away from the people."

That is a frequent expression among people in certain quarters when discussing the new charter bill. Because the bill provides for the appointment by the mayor of a few officials who have heretofore been elected by the city council, we are told there is a drive to take power away from the people. In point of fact this so called board of trade charter gives the people five times as much power over the city government as they possess under the present charter. How much power have the people over a superintendent of streets at the present time? That official is controlled by nobody except the men who elect him, the aldermen and councilmen, and that is why there is so much deadwood in some of the departments. These officials elected by the city council are dogged by councilmen and aldermen in the interests of their constituents. With the "statesmen" it is a matter of securing reelection or paying political debts, and the men who have a political pull are the only ones who can get a job. It has even gone so far that men who are of no use as workmen are held on the pay-roll often when not needed, and some of them have even gone so far as to tell the superintendent that he dare not fire them. Wherein have the people any power under such a system? The politicians can get the jobs for their friends, whether these friends can do a day's work or not.

The alternative of election by the people would not help matters very much. The voters cannot select the most competent man for head of any department. A man with a political pull but wholly without any business qualification for the office may secure the nomination and then the voters have no choice but to elect him.

Were the mayor given the appointing power he could deliberately select the best man available for each office, and if he failed the blame would fall upon his head. If things went wrong the mayor would be held responsible, and he would thus take care to look after the interests of the people. If he proved incompetent, recurrent ordishness, the people have the remedy in the "Recall."

Some of the opponents of this new charter try to minimize the value of the recall, but it is one of the most potent weapons for good government ever placed in the hands of the voters. They have never had it and yet they say that in slightly increasing the mayor's powers and vastly increasing the people's powers, the power is being taken away from the people.

This is a fallacy, a falsehood put in circulation by politicians who might lose part of their pull if the new charter were adopted.

If the wage earners, the real people, not the bums and loafers, will consider their own interests they will readily see that the centering of responsibility will put the business of the city on a business basis, will cause the officials to see that the money appropriated is wisely spent. What does this mean but for the best interests of the community at large, for the wage earners and the business men alike, but not for the grafters and the loafers.

SEEN AND HEARD

The name of "Yankee" Locke is recalled by an old program of a show at the Museum which was located where the Hildreth building now stands. The program dates as far back as November, 1846. The program reads: "Two Nights More!"

Last night of the beautiful drama of "Madeline," or "The Child of the Regiment," concluding with the laughable farce called "The Omnibus."

A foot-note reads as follows: In consequence of the immense preparation attendant upon the opening of the New Museum, the manager has been compelled to defer it for a few nights, in order to perfect its appointments and render it as desirable a place of AMUSEMENT AS ANY IN THE COUNTRY. The casts were as follows: Madeline, or "The Child of the Regiment," Supine, an old sergeant, Mr. Gorman; Andalus, Mr. Locke; Gorman, Mr. Rogers; Corporal, Mr. Davis; Drummer, Mr. Warner; First Soldier, Mr. Johnson; Madeline, the Child of the Regiment, Mrs. Gorman; Marchoness, Mrs. Groves.

The Omnibus, or Ten Miles from Town: Mr. Rooney, Mr. Rogers; Mr. Locke, Mr. Locke; Mr. Dobbs, Mr. Dobbs; Master Jenny Dobbs, Mr. Gorman; Mrs. Dobbs, Mrs. Groves; Julia, Mrs. Gorman. Tickets admitting two persons at once, 25 cents. No boys admitted unless accompanied by parents or guardians.

It has been said that the best way to teach a man to swim is to throw him overboard. It would not do with some men, however; they would be too lazy to come to the top to be rescued. On the other hand, there is now and then a man who can be made to forget his troubles and to help himself if you can only convince him that he is receiving outside aid. A well known New York man tells of such an individual. The individual in this case was a stranded actor. He had been without employment for two months, and he looked the part. By virtue of maintaining a vigorous correspondence he finally managed to obtain an engagement with a theatrical company that was playing in a town 25 miles away. He did not have enough money to pay his railroad fare and so he proceeded to do what inexperienced travelers generally do under such circumstances, namely, to walk. After he had tramped for about one-third of his journey he began to grow footsore and weary. He resorted to the soles of his aching feet to the rough spots in the road. Blisters formed. The actor's limbs wavered and wobbled. He became intensely thirsty. Finally giving up in despair, he threw himself down in the shade of a roadside tree. Near at hand was a canal, and as the actor lay on the ground wondering how he was either to get on in his journey or back where he started, a canal boat came in sight. It was pulled by an ancient horse, and progressed slowly. As it came toward the actor, it occurred to him that perhaps the owner might help him on toward his destination. He suggested this idea to the captain of the boat. "I must get there tonight," he said, "and I'm too tired to take another step. If you will help me I will gladly work my passage." The canal boatman nodded. "All right," he said, "glad to do it; just lead the horse." "At last! At last!" exclaimed the actor in his most dramatic manner. "At last, I am saved!"

Men and Women Suffering with "Nerves" Read This

The impairment of the nervous force in men and women is first manifested by extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, dread, worry and anxiety without reason, trembling of the hands and limbs, with the slightest exertion, heart palpitation, constipation, kidney trouble, and a general inability to act rationally at all times as others with health in their bodies do. This, if neglected, leads to despondency, melancholia and lost ambition, making the likelihood of a cure more and more difficult, while frequently locomotor ataxia, "blind staggers," paralysis and even insanity are a direct result of neglecting to increase the life-giving nerve force.

A simple home treatment has been devised which, if taken in time, will certainly work wonders. The mixture can be prepared at home by obtaining the four ingredients separately, and the encouragement or (inability) which most sensitive people abhor is thus avoided. The ingredients are pure and used in various prescriptions.

In a half pint bottle get three ounces of syrup, carmine compound, and add to this one ounce compound fluid, balmwood, and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence, carmine, and one ounce fluid, carmine compound (not carmine); mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at retiring.

This contains no opiates whatever and may also be used by men and women who suffer with their nerves with absolute certainty of prompt and lasting benefits.

STEAMER DIMOCK

Preparation to Float

Her Today

CHATHAM, March 12.—Preparations were begun today for the floating of the stranded steamer H. F. Dimock, now lying broadside on the beach at Nauset where she ran for shelter after leaving her hull stove in by a collision with the steamer Horatio Hall on Thursday.

The weather conditions early today had changed very little from yesterday, a brisk north-east wind still blowing, although probably with not so much strength. The task of putting the Dimock into useful service again was considered today a serious proposition. Her position was very unfavorable for the workers. She was lying keeled over on her port side about 250 yards from shore with a great sea in her port side and another in her bow. In order to repair the hole in her side it was thought that it would be necessary to lighten the vessel of her cargo and roll her over on her starboard side. The tugs Orion and Underwriter with the lighter Fair, mouth and the revenue cutter Grosvenor were at the scene today and other wrecking apparatus was expected to arrive later. The captain and crew of the Dimock, 25 men all told remained on board their vessel throughout the night. It was the wind should blow around to the eastward and a gale spring up, which would impel the bow of the men, a stout hawser was stretched between the steamer and the shore last night to serve as a lifeline.

No effort as yet had been made to relieve Dimock's hip side of the sunken steamer. Horatio Hall, a man-of-war, was in the area, but the sea continued to wash over her hull, although apparently not doing her additional injury. With the first northeast gale, however, it is expected that her pilot house and all her upperworks will be swept away. The light-house steamer Abasco was standing by the Dimock today ready to begin the work of placing lights aboard the wreck and mark her position with buoys.

COURT DECISION STANDS

The decision in the case of Nelson Morris Co. against Joseph P. and Mary Quigley, an action of contract, which was heard some time ago before Judge Hadley, will stand. Lawyer James P. Owens, representing the defense, contended that the case be reopened on one of the points concerned, but Lawyer J. Joseph O'Connell, representing the plaintiff, objected and his objection was sustained, the court allowing the original decision to stand.

PICTURE SHOWS

Mayor Brown to Grant

No More Licenses

Asked today what he had decided to do relative to Sunday moving picture shows, if he had decided to "cut them out" in accordance with his promise to the Lowell Ministers' Union, Mayor Brown said:

"I will write a letter to the Ministers' Union in which I will say that I will not give my approval to any more Sunday concerts at this time, and if I do decide to in the future to sign their applications for licenses, which must be approved by the chief of the state police, I will first give a hearing."

Licenses have already been granted for next Sunday, but the moving picture entertainments will not be allowed to open on Sundays after that date. I hope this action at this time at the request of the ministers of the city."

Sunday moving picture shows are being given with the mayor's approval in the following places of amusement: Lowell Opera House, La Scala, Theatre, Voyages, Alhambra, Senic Hall, Unique Theatre, Pastime Star Theatre, Academy of Music, Mathew Temperance Institute hall.

A misstatement of fact was inadvertently made in the article relative to the ministers' meeting held Wednesday. In that article it was stated that Mayor Brown had promised on Feb. 26th to stop the picture shows on Sunday, which was untrue. He had merely promised to give the matter careful consideration.

BIG RECEPTION

IS BEING PLANNED FOR ARCH-BISHOP O'CONNELL

A number of the prominent men of the diocese met last night to devise ways and means of receiving Archbishop O'Connell on his return from Rome. No definite plans were formulated, but it is the intention of a number of the more prominent men of the diocese to appoint a ways and means committee, looking to a reception to the archbishop which will meet with the approval of everyone.

The First Bottle is Free

To every sick person who suffers from a Cough, "Cold", Bronchitis, Consumption or an ache or pain anywhere in the body and who has not tried LINONINE (the Flax Seed Emulsion), we offer a full bottle free. Not a mere sample but a regular package of standard size and quality. Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity. Do it today. All druggists have Linonine or they will get it for you.

LINONINE (Emulsion of Flax Seed)

More than one hundred thousand dollars have been expended in making Linonine, the Flax Seed Emulsion, the most perfect food medicine in the world. It is not a secret remedy—the formula is on every bottle. It is a palatable emulsion—sweet as cream—made of the oil compressed cold from the finest, selected Flax Seeds.

How Sickness Comes

Consumption first shows in a cough. Bronchitis is accompanied by a cough. The first stage of La Grippe is a "cold." Pneumonia is preceded by cough and "cold." Croup—that terrible malady of childhood—comes solely as a condition of a "cold."

By acting promptly you can escape most fatal sicknesses by treating a "cold" while it is still a "cold" and by curing a cough when it is nothing but a cough. For many years physicians have been successfully treating Coughs, "Colds," Bronchitis and Consumption with this great Emulsion of Flax Seed, LINONINE. Everyone knows the value of a Flax Seed poultice—the power of Flax Seed tea. Flax Seed is the utmost in food medicine. For brain or muscle—for the ailing and the weak—for coughs, "colds" and their complications—it does all that medicine can.

Linonine presents the healing, body-building elements of Flax Seed as nothing else in the whole history of medicine has ever done, with special efficacy in all wasting diseases, particularly in Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption.

If you wish to know what Linonine (the Flax Seed Emulsion) will do, write us to send you an order on a local druggist for a full-size package, and we will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to let the remedy itself show you what it can do.

DOCTORS HEARD

Investigation of Lynn Hospital

LYNN, March 12.—The earlier hours of last night's hearing in connection with the charges of neglect and inadequate treatment of patients at the hospital for contagious diseases was given over to witnesses who believed the hospital to be properly conducted. Although a majority of those testified that their experience in connection with the hospital showed that the institution was properly supplied with nurses, and that these gave all necessary attention to patients, the cross-examination of several by Mayor Jas. E. Rich and others brought out points in variance to this.

Many of the witnesses were physicians who were attached to the hospital at some time or were connected with it temporarily through having patients there. Among these there was diversity of opinion as to whether the attendance of nurses during the night was necessary. But few among them said this was so, though these few cited instances where non-attendance had brought about a serious and sometimes fatal condition of patients.

The statement of Jonathan Beavins, superintendent of the hospital, that he had received a letter from the board of health at one time urging the need of economy at the hospital, gave rise to much discussion in which Chairman William Cowan of the board and Alderman John McKenna, chairman of last year's finance commission, participated. The former testified, writing the letter stating that he qualified by adding, "Without stifle where plenty is needed," and Alderman McKenna said that no requirements had been made upon the board of health, and that it had exceeded the hospital ap-proportion of $10,000 by more than one thousand dollars.

Mrs. Mary Condon, a nurse at the hospital, in the course of cross-examination by Mayor Rich, admitted her lack of instruction and practice in administering anti-toxin to diphtheria patients. She stated that prior to coming to the Lynn hospital several years ago, she had never administered anti-toxin, but that a month after becoming attached to the institution she had done so. Mrs. Condon denied that one of the diphtheria patients at the hospital was forced to drag herself to the bathroom during the night when she was straggling, so that she might get water.

How to Cure a Terrific Headache.

Many people suffer with an aching head after work, or occasionally getting relief from so-called headache powders and nerve-stupefying drugs. They never get cured because they start wrong. Such people should do a little common-sense thinking. Headache is simply the result, a warning signal, of a far more serious trouble. Usually it means bad blood poisoned by an inactive or sluggish liver. Headache sufferers are often nervous, cross and irritable. Their sleep is disturbed and digestion impaired. The liver doesn't do its work right, and the bile elements poison both nerve and brain.

Cure Headache by removing the cause. They are Nature's true laxative, and give tone to liver activity, are a positive specific for biliousness and a torpid liver. Get your liver right by using Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills. They don't hurt, they don't weaken, they don't cost your food, they don't cost your nerves, they don't cost your sleep, they don't cost your health. These Little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills and they

$50,000 SUIT

WAS THROWN OUT BY THE COURT

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 12.—A $50,000 libel suit, instituted by Father Clarke, pastor of the Roman Catholic parish at Torbay, against the Plain Dealer, a local newspaper, just after the general elections in November, was thrown out of court yesterday by Justice Emerson of the supreme court. The newspaper charged that several clergymen, including Father Clarke, had used their influence in behalf of the Bond Government and had displayed partisanship.

In court yesterday Father Clarke admitted that he had solicited votes in half of the Bondites, whereupon Sir James Winter, counsel for the newspaper, asked for a non-suit, contending that the criticism of the priest referred to his political and not his sacerdotal actions. Justice Emerson agreed and ordered the case dismissed. The editor of the newspaper and Justice Emerson, who is a close friend of Fr. Clarke, are Roman Catholics.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 12.—John Ashinwall Roosevelt, a distant cousin of former President Theodore Roosevelt, died at his home near this city yesterday after an illness of several months.

Mr. Roosevelt was a noted yachtsman and was the owner of a fleet of yachts in the Hudson River and Lake Champlain. He owned the famous Ice yacht, at one time the largest ice yacht in the world and for several seasons holder of the world's championship pennant.

S. H. THOMPSON

Presided Over Meeting of Hardware Dealers

SPRINGFIELD, March 12.—Five hundred members of the New England Hardware Association were in attendance at the annual meeting of the organization which opened late yesterday. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor William E. Sanderson, who presented them with a "key to the city." The key is made of wood and is about 10 feet long, and its presentation was the occasion of much laughter and applause. Senator H. Thompson of Lowell, president of the association, responded to the address of welcome. He also presented his annual report in which he declared "I believe we are facing an era of prosperity such as the state has never known before. The best great obstacle to overcome is the tariff. Let us hope that this congress may have the wisdom to appoint a permanent tariff commission."

THE "INSURGENTS"

HELD A MEETING BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

WASHINGTON, March 12.—For more than three hours last night the republican "insurgents" discussed behind closed doors the opposition they propose to make next Monday, when the first congress convenes, to the adoption of the rules of the last house to govern it.

The leaders of the movement expressed entire satisfaction with the size of the meeting, claiming that at least 10 more members would vote with them against the rules. It is known that much of the time at the meeting was devoted to discussion of a compromise with the organization forces. The suggestion was made that the insurgents enter into a compromise with the regulars whereby a committee would be appointed at the beginning of the special session to revise the rules of the house.

NORTH BILLERICA

Electric car traffic through North Billerica was tied up for a time last night owing to the breaking of an axle on one of the Woburn bound cars at Perry's corner. The accident happened shortly before ten o'clock. Word was sent to Lowell and a wrecking crew was soon on the scene and after making temporary repairs the car was sent back to Lowell under its own power.

While the outward bound track was blocked by the disabled car it was necessary for outbound cars to use the inbound rail for a considerable distance. The car was owned by Conductor Dave Curtin and Motorman Thomas Towers.

BIG LABOR WAR

IS THREATENED NOW IN NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, N. S., March 12.—As a result of the motion of the coal operators of Nova Scotia combining their forces to fight the entry of the United Mine Workers of America into this province a great labor war is predicted. Representatives of the various mining companies have just met in secret session and agreed that they would use every endeavor to prevent the Mine Workers of America from gaining control of the labor at the mines in this province as such a step might ultimately result in the loss of a large part of the Nova Scotia coal trade to Americans. Representatives of the United Mine Workers are now in Nova Scotia, organizing unions in the collieries districts, but the mine operators say that they will not recognize the new organization. The operators have all agreed to stand by the Provincial Workmen's association. There are over 10,000 men employed in the various collieries and over one-third of them have joined the American organization.

Another Machine
PLAN IS BASED ON NOVEL LINES
All the Year Round

DAYTON, O., March 12.—The home of the Wright brothers produced another claimant to high honors in the field of aeronautics in the person of the inventor, W. J. Richardson, whose plans for a flying machine are based on novel and original lines. Mr. Richardson made a test of the invention yesterday in a field north of this city, starting from the ground without artificial aid rising to a height of over 300 feet and remaining in the air for 25 minutes. The Richardson machine was under perfect control at all times and his claim that he could have remained in the air for 24 hours apparently was well founded.

Inventor Richardson claims there exists no further mechanical defects in perfect aviation. Representatives of the French government have been negotiating with Mr. Richardson with a view to experimentation abroad.

GENERAL COURT

Bill for Constitutional Prohibition

DISTRICT ATTORNEY BILL IS KILLED

Butler Amos Railroad Petition Withdrawn—Bill to Have Half Liquor License Money Turned Over to State

BOSTON, March 12.—At the state house yesterday afternoon, after a brief executive session, the committee on constitutional amendments, with three dissenters, voted to report the resolve for an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage.

This sweeping amendment, which in terms, absolutely prohibits the manufacture in Massachusetts of any liquor whether to be used here or in any other state or country, was petitioned for by Elizabeth P. Gordon and others. The committee gave a hearing on the subject February 24 last and members of the W. C. T. U. were heard in favor and representatives of the interests were heard in opposition. It was an annual hearing. There was no especially strong interest manifested in the matter this year, and it was regarded with no greater degree of seriousness than in other years.

The report of the committee therefore comes as a distinct surprise on Beacon Hill. No attempt has been made for constitutional prohibition in this state since 1889, when a similar amendment was rejected by the people by a majority of almost 50,000 no-license cities contributing the largest majorities against the amendment. State officials and members of the legislature generally, outside of the committee, who heard of the committee's vote yesterday afternoon could scarcely credit the news.

After a heated debate the state senate yesterday afternoon practically killed the bill to provide a second district attorney for Middlesex county by referring it to the next general court.

The bill had been ordered to a third reading last week after a debate in which it was opposed by Senator Grimes and others. The main opposition was that it was a measure simply framed to make a place for ex-Representative Horace Hardy of Arlington, a son of Judge Hardy of the superior court.

Reports in The Senate

In the senate, these reports of committees were read:

Joint Judiciary—Bill to provide that an employee who reports a defect in machinery and is afterward injured by reason of such defect and neglect of his employer to remedy it, shall not be held to have assumed the risk of such injury.

Federal relations—Reference to next general court of the petition of Henry H. Rice for a commission to represent the commonwealth at the Alaska-Yukon exposition at Seattle.

Street railways—Leave to withdraw to Butler Amos at his own request on his petition to authorize the Boston, Lowell & Lawrence electric railroad to construct an elevated railway.

Liquor law—Bill to require that half of the fees for liquor licenses shall be paid into the state treasury. Senator Shaw, Representative Kitchin, Davidson, Lyman and W. H. O'Brien, dissent.

Bill to amend the law relative to licensing theatrical exhibitions so that it shall not apply to entertainments in private houses.

The rule was suspended to admit the petition of the selectmen of Falmouth that a session of the 1st district court of Barnstable be held in that town once each week.

All the labor bills reported upon adversely by the committees on judiciary and labor were assigned to Tuesday, March 1.

The senate finally killed the recalled enacted bill to pay the widow of Irving T. Farnham of Newton the balance of his salary as city engineer.

Mufflers for Motor Boats

After a brief discussion, resumed from Wednesday, the house ordered to a third reading, on a voice vote, the bill to require mufflers or under-water exhausts on motor boats. The bill was favored by Burns of Plymouth, Dorman of Lynn and Barrett of Gloucester, and was opposed by Holman of Attleboro.

In the house these committees' reports were received.

Cities—Leave to withdraw on the bill to enlarge the powers of the school committee of Waltham with respect to physical education.

Judiciary—Leave to withdraw on the bill to repeal the present law prohibiting the enticement of seamen to desert or leave their vessels.

Town—Leave to withdraw on the bill to establish a fire department and a fire commissioner for the town of Milton.

Public service—A bill to abolish the bureau of statistics of labor and create in its stead a bureau of statistics.

Judiciary—Next general court on the bill to permit the employment of children under 14 years of age in theatrical performances.

Water supply—A bill authorizing the city of Waltham to make an additional water loan of $100,000.

Banks and banking—Leave to withdraw on the bill to incorporate the Massachusetts small loan company.

The same committee—Leave to withdraw on the bill to incorporate the Consolidated loan company.

The same committee—Leave to withdraw on the bill to incorporate the Tri Mountain savings bank of Boston.

The Gladstone club held a regular meeting last evening with about 600 members present and, as usual, a first class program. There was an added feature not down on the card that made a big hit and it was the first appearance of the Gladstone Glee club, an aggregation of about one dozen near singers, who entertained between the rounds with a series of solemn choruses which were well received. The glee club was voted to be all right only it needs a few new records.

Hoss and Merrill, the principal attraction mentioned on the card, did not appear owing to the illness of Hoss, and when substitutes were announced in the persons of Mike Grady of Southbridge, who recently boxed Fred Sidney before the club, and Kid McDonald, formerly a B. A. A. amateur champion, but now a full fledged professional, the members were inclined to be a little disappointed for a moment. Once the boys got to it, and that was right off the reel, the disappointment was speedily forgotten and when the affair was over everyone was pleased that the main attraction didn't materialize, for it couldn't have been any better than the Grady-McDonald affair and might not have been as good. Grady was the cleverer of the pair, but he was not in as fine condition as his opponent. McDonald boxed Angus MacDonough at the Armory club last week and hence was in excellent shape. The boys went at it hammer and tongs. McDonald showing a disposition to carry the coat to his opponent. Grady showed some very scientific short arm work that mystified McDonald, but the latter was able to take all that came his way without showing any fatigue owing to his fine condition. For 12 rounds without a let-up the pair kept at it nip and tuck, and when Referee Costello declared it a draw everyone was perfectly satisfied. The semi-final was a four round bout between Young Donohue of this city and Neil Daly of Lawrence. Daly looking some 10 pounds heavier than the Lowell boy. The pair went at it briskly but the Lawrence lad had a big advantage in weight. Donohue showed up so finely that the referee gave him the decision though a draw might have been acceptable, for Daly at times appeared to hold back rather than take advantage of his handicap on his opponent. Still it was a most interesting bout throughout. The second preliminary furnished the comedy of the occasion, and it was good comedy. The contestants were Shasher Lewis and Costion Carver, two husky railroad men, who were brimful of enthusiasm and strength, though several chips lay on science. It was evident that the friends of the pair had talked the matter over for they were there in goodly numbers and each contestant received a mighty welcome as he entered the ring. Carver was much heavier than Lewis, but the latter was quicker and when Carver would attempt to bring one of his battering rams about, Lewis would hike for the next county and the force of Carver's swing would completely clear smoke from the interior of the gym. While Carver would be reloading his pile driver, Lewis would run in and bring him in the forefront of the face and then meander back out of harm's way, and at the end of the fourth round everyone said "quite tight" when the referee awarded the cozy apple to Lewis. Carver meant well, but he didn't live up to his name, except to carve huge chunks out of the air. The opening bout was between Burke and Carver of Lowell and Boston and it was an interesting draw. It was announced that at the next meeting one of the principals will be little Andy Daly of Portland, Me., who fought a couple of fine draws with Martin Flaherty. Daly is still doing business with the mitts and is a very likely proposition.

WONG TOY

LOCAL CHINAMAN HAS PASSED AWAY

Wong Toy, the Paige street laundry man who has resided in America for 25 years, most of the time in Lowell, cashed his last check a few days ago and went to the rice fields of Fobcarr in the Chinese Kingdom, where he was 20 years of age and had been ill for some time. His condition became so bad that he was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died on Tuesday.

Undertaker John A. Finnegan was sent for and he did the funeral job in true Oriental style. Wong was laid out in a winding sheet while his best clothes were tucked into the casket for future use in the Celestial rice fields. Incense was burned at the casket while a choir of Chinamen crooned a number of Oriental melodies to drive away the evil spirits, and the music was such as would drive away any old kind of spirit that had the misfortune to hear it. Yesterday the remains were taken to Boston accompanied by a large delegation of Chinamen and were placed in a tomb in Mt. Hope cemetery. In the fall the remains will be sent to Canton, China, for burial.

The regular monthly meeting of the Law and Order league of Lowell will be held in Y. M. C. A. hall Monday evening, March 15, at 7:15 o'clock.

JIMMY GARDNER

To Meet Bill McKinnon
April 6

BOSTON, March 12.—"Bill" McKinnon, the local middleweight, and "Jimmy" Gardner of Lowell signed articles last night to box 12 rounds at clubweights at the Athory Athletic association in this city Tuesday evening, April 6.

BOXING GOSSIP

The arrival of Jack Johnson on the Pacific coast acted as a volcano in the pugilistic world yesterday and inspired the public interest in the proposed fight with the big negro champion. The big negro champion and his manager, Al Kaufman, and his manager, Billy Delaney, got in New York late in the afternoon from California, while Sam Langford, the Boston negro fighter, also took a run over from the club. The result of his general mixup was a cyclone of hot city with many sorely puzzled as to what to expect.

In spite of Johnson's statement at Victoria, B. C., that he was ready to fight Jeffries or any man in the world, nobody could induce him yesterday to say that he would make a match with Burns' conqueror. To all inquiries Jeffries replied that it was too early for him to decide and that he did not know at the present time whether he would be able to do him a favor for a return to the ring.

There is no doubt that Johnson would like to arrange a match with Jeffries now to be decided next fall or winter, so that he could have the benefit of the advertising when he reaches England, about the first of April, but it is also a crash that the negro cannot hurry the matter. In fact Johnson as champion is not called upon to challenge Jeffries under the rules, on the contrary he must wait until Jeff is ready to talk business. But in the event of a match Johnson will have the right to name terms, such as a 75 and 25 percent division of the purse, which it is said he will insist upon.

Johnson, however, appears to be overdoing his talk of a fight with Jeffries when he declares that he will be ready to box the big fellow ten rounds at one of the local clubs before he goes to England. In the first place Johnson must know that Jeffries is nowhere near ready for a match, while in the second place it is conceded that such a bout if put on in New York would break up the present prospect of the boxing game. Johnson, therefore, can be fairly charged by sportsmen with being charged upon which, though, the negro has no monopoly.

Kaufman, through Delaney, is again challenging Jeffries, much to the amusement of those who have seen the two men in the ring. Kaufman and his manager sold last night that they were ready to stand up with Jeff for a forty-five round fight for $100,000 a side, the date and battle ground to be left to the challenger. But in case of this sudden decision to make Jeffries the only fully tested contender for the title, Johnson, Ketchel and Langford, if Jeffries should care to follow the example set by former heavyweight champions of America and England, could very easily notify Kaufman to go and get a reputation by fighting the winner of the Johnson-Kaufman battle, which will be decided in London in May.

Mr. Leslie Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion, through his manager, William Britton, who is known for his short notice, and that in a fight he would take a crack at Jeffries or Kaufman. But he did not say a word of a match with Langford, and Ketchel won back his life by sleeping in California. Langford has been coming on his tour. The negro has offered to make a big bet on the side that he can stop Ketchel in ten rounds, but has been unable to secure a challenger. Ketchel has refused point blank to meet Langford under any circumstances but he is willing to give a plausible reason. Langford says that he will be at the ringside when Ketchel and O'Brien box ten rounds at the National A. C., New York, on March 26, and that he will issue a challenge to the winner. Langford is also anxious to meet Kaufman.

THE CRESCENTS

WON TWO POINTS FROM THE AMERICANS

The Crescents defeated the Americans on the alleg last night, the former team capturing two points and the total. The game between the Wonders and the Crescents resulted in another victory for the former, none of the Crescents being able to push the play over the 200 yard line. In the forward league the 70th Five turned the tables on the Highlanders and scored a well earned victory.

THREE GAMES

PLAYED IN THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM LAST NIGHT

Three good games of basketball were played at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in Hurd street last night. The first game, which was between the Indians and the Ayer team, resulted in a victory for the Indians, the score being 28 to 18. In the second game the Highlanders defeated the 70th Five, the score of 14 to 2 and in the last game the Methodists defeated the Central, the score of 12 to 8.

TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

CHICAGO, March 12.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from San Francisco says:

President Charles C. Kennedy of the Chicago American League club has announced that he will take his baseball team around the world during the season of 1911. The trip will be made from San Francisco around Oct. 15, 1911.

The trip of the all-American baseball club to Japan, China, the Philippines and Hawaii last winter led to the belief that a trip around the world would be a success.

WOOD DEFEATED BAPTIST

CLEVELAND, O., March 12.—Norval Baptist, of North Dakota, world's ice skating champion, surrendered the quarter mile honors last night to Morris Wood of New York in the opening series of professional skating races here last night. Wood, the 22-year-old one mile champion, defeated Baptist and Nilsson. Charles Rankin retained his honors in the fifty yard dash.

DARTMOUTH WON

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 12.—In a fast basketball game here last night Dartmouth defeated Syracuse University by a score of 25 to 22. The teams alternated in the lead throughout the game.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Walter J. Bigelow, Yale '97, captain of the '98 and '99 varsity nine, recently gave his views in the Yale News on professional baseball coaching at Yale and the poor players that Yale has turned out. He said:

"Yale has returned to the professional system and I believe she has done wisely. If the men who take up rowing, boxing, wrestling, running and fencing are given the benefit of professional coaching there is no reason why the baseball men should be handicapped when they meet opponents who have been trained by professionals. "System in athletics is everything, and system is best secured by employing a professional who can give his lifetime time to teaching the fine points of any given sport. We have our rowing system at Yale, and when occasionally we lose a race we at once concede that the other fellows were a little better than we. We do not think of condemning the system or that grand teacher of it—John Kennedy. "If we have a baseball system at Yale, we have the record for the last ten years or so would seem to indicate that it has a weak spot, and that spot is poor batting. All Yale nine field well,

GOES SEVENTY MILES AN HOUR

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., March 12.—Over the ice at Otisco lake, Cooperstown, N. Y., an auto-motor, the latest invention of J. Arthur Olson, has been having its try-out. The machine attains a speed of seventy miles an hour. The body of the machine resembles that of a racing automobile. Behind the driver's seat a gasoline engine is connected with the propeller, made up of two blades suspended in the air like the propeller of an aeroplane. A wheel attached to a single runner in front serves for steering. Recent trials of the car have been pleasing to the inventor because of the high speed shown against the wind. Mr. Olson's first invention was a hydroplane—a gliding motor propelled boat which was soon skimming over the water at Cooperstown during its trial tests.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S FIRST DAY AS EDITOR

NEW YORK, March 12.—The first day of Mr. Roosevelt's first day as an editor. Arrived from Cooperstown at 10 o'clock. Stayed up in crowded conditions at the National Athletic Club. The National Athletic Club had lunch at the National Athletic Club with staff of the Outlook, known all he had to say to them was, "I'm having a busy time." He couldn't help the camera artists, however, and this snapshot was taken just as he was about to enter the Outlook office. The man on the left is Douglas Robinson, Mr. Roosevelt's brother-in-law. The one on the right is Lawrence F. Abbott of the Outlook.

but their batting is usually poor.

"It has been my fortune, either as a participant or as a spectator, to see early all of the important games since 1874. I do not, therefore, speak off-hand when I say that I have not in many years seen a good batter who has been taught to hit while at Yale. On the other hand, I have known a number of boys who were good batters before going to college and who seemed to forget how to hit a ball after they had made the nine. "It is art to coach a poor batter, but

I believe in letting a natural hitter alone, no matter if his position at bat is contrary to all the rules of form. He can hit the ball and can hit it hard, and that is what he is there for. To my mind, one of the chief reasons why Yale loses so many games is because her good batters are coached too much. "The captain of the nine should be supreme, and a word from him to the professional coach would at least partly remedy this defect in our system."

ASKS WARRANT

For Arrest of Mayor of Lawrence

LAWRENCE, March 12.—Atty. John J. Donovan, counsel for Superintendent of Streets John C. Nothman, applied to Clerk Noyes of the police court yesterday morning for a warrant for the arrest of Mayor White, on the charge of holding up the street department pay-rolls illegally. A conference followed, at which the seriousness of arraignment the mayor was discussed and it was agreed that recourse to the civil court would be the better way out of the difficulty.

It is therefore considered probable that a number of suits will at once be instituted against the city to recover the wages of a large number of men employed by the street department since the suspension order went into effect a month ago.

JOHNSON CHALLENGES JEFFRIES

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 12.—The arrival of Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight champion, in this country from Australia and his blatant challenge to Jim Jeffries have caused renewed interest to the heavyweight situation. Johnson unreservedly declares his willingness to fight Jeff or any other man in a 24-foot ring. "It takes me to hear this talk about Jeffries claiming the championship," said Johnson on his arrival in Vancouver, B. C. "Why, when a mayor leaves office he's an ex-mayor, isn't he? When a champion leaves the ring, he's an ex-champion. If Jeffries wants to try and get the championship back, I'm willing to take him on. In all the notices I have seen about a fight between us it is what Jeffries will take. What is the matter with what Johnson will take? I'm the champion, ain't I? I want a winner and loser end." Johnson will arrive in Chicago Saturday. He will continue his journey to Galveston, Tex., on Monday, arriving at his Texas home on Wednesday.

NO ALTERNATIVE

EDITORS MUST BE EXTRADITED, SAYS DISTRICT ATTORNEY

CHICAGO, March 12.—"Under the federal statutes there is no alternative but the extradition of Delavan Smith and Charles Williams to the District of Columbia on the Bell suit brought against them by the government."

Charles W. Miller, newly appointed district attorney in Indianapolis, who has been in Chicago, made this statement just before he left for home. He declares the Indianapolis defendants will be served with a subpoena to appear for trial and that if resistance is made further process would be invoked by the government.

"The federal law on the subject is specific," said Mr. Miller.

NIGHT EDITION

WORK OF BURGLARS

The Tailor Shop of George V. Gregg Was Entered

The tailor shop of George V. Gregg, in the Spalding block, at the corner of Central and Prescott streets, was entered by burglars early this morning and they stole a number of clothes, patterns, a valuable silk lined overcoat, and several smaller articles. Mr. Gregg's place of business made an unsuccessful attempt to enter the "Doll Hat Store" on the street floor of the same building, but were evidently frightened away while they were at work on the lock on the door in Central street.

It is evident that the work was done by well trained burglars, who in all probability made a flying trip to this city to make the breaks and then jumped the town, for the lock on Mr. Gregg's door was pried with a jimmy while there is every indication that a large jimmy was used in attempting to enter the hat store down stairs.

The matter was reported to the police who in turn communicated with the police of other cities and towns in the vicinity.

Mr. Gregg's place of business is located on the second floor of the Spalding building, with windows looking into Central street. It is thought that while one of the gang kept a watch at the main entrance in Central street, the others worked on the lock on the door and then entered the place.

Several rolls of new suit patterns were taken, the boards used for winding the cloth being left behind. A high priced silk lined overcoat belonging to Mr. Gregg which was thrown over one of the tables was stolen, but the burglars overlooked a fur overcoat which hung in a closet.

There is a small safe in the room, but the men did not tamper with this at all. On top of the safe is a small portable desk which contains papers, buttons and other articles of more or less value, as well as several pocket-books. This desk was rifled everything being turned topsy turvy.

Mr. Gregg spent the early part of last night at the Masonic club in Merchants street and at 12:30 o'clock went up to his place of business and stayed there for a few minutes. At that time everything was in order. When he entered the place this morning, however, he found the door open, the lock pried, and articles of clothing and different materials scattered over the floor and tables.

DUTY ON LUMBER CLUB LICENSES

50 Per Cent Reduction Will be Made Fee Has Been Raised to $200

ST. JOHN, N. B., March 12.—The sawmill owners of Canada are not particularly pleased with the action taken from Washington that the congressional ways and means committee will recommend a fifty per cent reduction in the duty on lumber. In St. John, which is the leading lumber export port in Canada, the manufacturers have little faith to find with the present tariff. Much of the lumber saved here is cut from Maine logs brought down the St. John river and is consequently admitted to the United States free of duty.

Henry Hilliard, a manufacturer who uses Canadian cut logs, and whose lumber when sent across the line is subject to the $1 rate, says that a cut in the duty would very likely result in the glutting of the American market with lumber of an inferior grade and that the consequent drop in prices would be materially felt here.

"The American market," said Mr. Hilliard, "is most exacting as to grade and to supply with anything below the standard would only result to the detriment of local shippers. Besides it is practically impossible now to get the raw material out of the woods as required by the manufacturers across the line."

On the other hand, Mr. Hilliard believes that the English prices will strengthen with the adoption of the measure, but this would not have the effect of benefiting the New Brunswick shipper either, as the American dealer would be placed on an equal footing with the Canadian exporter.

Mr. Hilliard also pointed out that the paper interests of the United States were opposed to the reduction for the same reasons and that on the whole the American operators need not be alarmed.

Another representative of the lumber interests said:

"If a free entry of Canadian lumber into the United States will help to conserve the American forests, well will be the effect upon the Canadian forests." Our lumber limits have not reached the stage of denudation as they have in some of the European countries, but we are even now destroying or permitting the destruction of the trees faster than nature can renew them and there can only be one end to this process—an end which will be rapidly hastened by the increased American demand for lumber. The tariff revision will create a new stage of denudation measures are taken by Canada.

SUPT. WHITCOMB

Replies to the Committee on Accounts

The following communications relative to Supt. Whitcomb's expenses to Chicago are self explanatory:

Lowell, Mass., March 9, 1909.
Mr. A. K. Whitcomb,
Superintendent of Schools,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:—
At a meeting of the committee on accounts held Monday afternoon, March 8, 1909, your bill of $60.00 against school department, for trip to Chicago was refused approval, this amount being in excess of $25 and not approved by the mayor. I desire to call your attention to joint order entitled "Relating to Expenses Incurred by Municipal Officials or Employees," which reads as follows:

"Ordered: If the common council concur, that no municipal official, employee, board or commission shall incur an expense to the city of Lowell, exceeding $25 for any out of town trip unless authorized in writing by the mayor."

Each official, employee, board or commission so authorized shall on his return, file with the mayor an itemized bill of expense. Such bill shall not be passed by the committee on accounts unless first approved in writing by the mayor."

Will you kindly give me an explanation of the above bill at your earliest convenience, and oblige

Very truly yours,
John D. Turner,
Chairman Committee on Accounts.

Lowell, Mass., March 10, 1909.
Alderman John D. Turner, Chairman,
Committee on Accounts.

Dear Sir:—In reply to your letter of yesterday regarding a school committee bill for traveling expenses, I can only say that I have no authority to speak for the committee, but as the vote authorizing the expenditure was unanimous and without question, I think it may fairly be assumed that the committee believed its action to be under authority of statute, and limited by an ordinance which applies to itself. From the joint order of the city council relative to traveling expenses, the school committee is, as I understand it, specifically exempted by section 8 of the charter amendment of 1908. Certainly the right to pay expenses has been exercised in Lowell, and in most other cities of the commonwealth for many years, usually without question, but after due consideration in the few cases (all in Lowell, so far as I know) where the right has been questioned.

If, however, your committee believes that it has the right to control the school committee in this particular, and that the best interests of the city require it to do so in this case, I respectfully request that the legal question of rights be submitted to the city solicitor as provided by the city charter for such cases.

As this question in its legal aspect is solely one of the authority of a subordinate branch of the city government, the school committee, the personal element, has no proper place in it, but as it does affect me slightly, I wish to say that if there is a doubt, either legal or moral, of my right to a payment of expenses incurred under direction of the school committee, then I not only do not wish my bill to be paid, but should of course, under such circumstances, refuse payment if offered. At present, however, I have, personally, no such doubt.

Very truly yours,
A. K. Whitcomb,
Superintendent of Schools.

NEW TARIFF BILL A BIG BOULDER

Republican Senators to Study It Prevents Work on the Massachusetts

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The republican senators on the committee on finance will begin a study of the new tariff bill as soon as copies are obtained.

The bill cannot, of course, be officially considered by the committee as a whole until after it has been passed by the house and transferred to the senate in the usual formal manner. It is believed, however, that the house will make some changes in the bill after it is reported from the committee on ways and means and the republican members of the senate committee on finance feel that they will have a basis for their operations as they will have after that measure has received the consideration of the house itself.

It is expected many changes will be made in the senate and that most of these will be in the finance committee. If the bill as it comes from the house should fail to give what is considered equal protection to the industries of some of the states there would be no reason for a strenuous effort by the senators from those states to restore the desired equilibrium. The thinly populated states of the west are especially interested in the protection of wool, hides, furs, lead ore, copper, etc., and will unquestionably resist any effort to put any of these articles on the free list.

As the committee on finance is at present constituted the far west is without representation on it. There is little doubt, however, that this defect will be remedied but even though there should be no change in this respect the senators are still confident that the committee would take care of their interests. If it should fail to do so they will take their fight on the senate floor.

While Senator Aldrich's hope is to have the bill in shape to be reported soon after it comes from the house, much will depend upon the character of the house measure and the disposition of the members of the finance committee. Unquestionably the controlling desire in the senate will be to make the bill a distinctly protective measure and it is not believed that the republican senators will permit even their desire for haste to cause them to sacrifice this feature of it.

BUSINESS IS BETTER

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Renewed activity in the country's manufactures is shown in figures prepared by the bureau of statistics, comparing imports of manufactured materials during January last with those of the preceding January.

In practically all cases the importations of manufacturers' raw materials in January, 1909, show a large advance over that of the year ago and in not a few cases the figures are actually larger than those of January 1, 1907, when all the industries of the country were running to their full capacity of production.

G. Demopoulos Settles Case of Illegal Practice

George Demopoulos, president of the local Greek community, was called before Judge Sherman in the superior criminal court, to plead to an indictment charging him with practicing medicine without being registered. He pleaded nolo and the case was held upon payment of $15 costs.

District Attorney Higgins stated that Demopoulos, who is president of the Greek community, had studied medicine but had failed to pass the examination. Then, without being registered he had written a few minor prescriptions. The opposition party in the community upon discovering the fact had proceeded to bring against him. Since his arrest he had successfully passed the necessary examination.

"His prescriptions didn't do any damage, did they?" inquired Judge Sherman.

"They did not, fortunately," replied Dist. Atty. Higgins.

"Well, that's some satisfaction," said Judge Sherman with a smile.

The case was then disposed of as mentioned above.

Gordon Not Sentenced

William E. Gordon is still in the custody of Sheriff Fairbanks, awaiting sentence. It was said in court that he would not be sentenced today. It was reported in Lowell today that an error in the indictment had been discovered, the indictment not having been signed. But the defendant pleaded guilty to the indictment, however made out.

CAPT. JEWELL

BOSTON, March 12.—After being rescued from their sunken steamer, Captain Jewell of the Horatio Hall has first officer, pilot and one deckhand reached Boston today on the tug John Chandler, the trip from Pollock Rip since having occupied twice the ordinary length of time on account of the treacherous gale and mountainous seas that prevailed off Cape Cod yesterday.

The Chandler, under the command of the captain, made her way up the shores as far as Race Point yesterday afternoon but the northwest gale which swept across Massachusetts bay at the rate of fifty miles an hour kept her from making further progress. The Chandler made another and successful attempt to reach this port. Upon landing Captain Jewell left immediately for the headquarters of the Marine S. Co., the Hall's owners in New York.

MEMORIAL TABLET

LOWELL PEOPLE OFFER CONTRIBUTIONS FOR IT

In a letter to Mayor Brown by Asa C. Russell relative to the proposed memorial tablet in memory of Private C. A. Taylor who was killed while going through Baltimore with the Sixth regiment, Mr. Russell refers to General Jones' interest in the matter, and says:

"General Jones in his communication says if the city government or the citizens of Lowell would not pay for the tablet, he would. It seems to me that the citizens would not only be willing, but anxious to bear the expense. If it is to be paid for by the citizens, please put me down for $25."

Another letter received by the mayor is from Henry M. Woodward, president of the Old Sixth regiment association. Mr. Woodward's letter was addressed to Gen. Jones and was turned over to the mayor. Mr. Woodward says that through the medium of Private Taylor's musket his folks were located in Vietnam.

Mayor Brown suggests that any persons desirous of contributing to the expense of the Taylor memorial before definite action is taken by the city council, might send their contributions to the superintendent of state aid, George E. Worthen.

MALDEN, March 12.—Joseph Grant, a Boston Elevated railway signalman stationed at the Main street crossing of the Saugus branch of the eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, was struck and killed by an oncoming freight train from Portland early today. The body was discovered by an electric car conductor a few moments after the train had passed. Grant was 30 years of age and boarded in Everett. He is survived by a son.

MME. NORDICA

Contests the Will of Her Aunt

CAMBRIDGE, March 12.—Madame Lillian Nordica, the singer, has joined with several others in a determination to contest the will of Mrs. Vannie Allen of Malden. Madame Nordica's aunt who died Feb. 21st last. A notice of such contest was filed in the probate court here today, the other contestants being Anna Eulawia of Boston; Inogene Costello of Los Angeles and Mrs. Walker of New York, all relatives of Mrs. Allen. In her will Mrs. Allen left nothing to any of her own relatives, stating that they were well provided with money. She left two lots of land to the Malden hospital and the bulk of the estate of about $100,000, to relatives of her late husband. An unusual feature of her will was a provision that all the beneficiaries should make promise under oath not to devote any part of their bequests to religious purposes. Robert W. Light of Boston represents the contestants. The executors of the will are Alexander McGregor of Malden and Alexander Lothrop of Boston. A hearing on the case will be held on March 23.

WHY?

Why is it that no merchant can build up a large and successful business nowadays without advertising in the newspapers? Because people look to the newspapers for the announcements of the merchants. The dealer who does not make announcements in the papers is soon forgotten by the people through the daily papers is soon forgotten by the buying public and is quickly left behind in the race for business.

WHY?

Talk to the people through the columns of The Sun and they will bear you in mind when they need anything in your line.

WHY?

The Sun having the largest circulation in Lowell is therefore the cheapest and most effective advertising medium in the city. It is unique.

Entertained Women's Missionary Circle

The Women's Missionary circle of the First Baptist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Pepin, 412 East Merrimack St. Mrs. H. L. Tibbets led the devotional exercises. There was a large attendance of members and visitors from the Elliot and North Tewksbury churches.

Mrs. Arthur French was chairman of the program. The circle is studying the "Newer and Farther East" and Mrs. French's subject, yesterday, was "What Remains to be Done in the Moslem World."

Mrs. French divided her subject into four parts. First, the Bible, by Rev. H. L. Tibbets; second, the education of the children, by Miss Mildred Moore; third, the woman, her social mission, by Mrs. French; fourth, prayer.

The story was illustrated by women in the costume of different Moslem countries. The Mohammedan woman, Mrs. Anderson; the Egyptian, Mrs. Albert E. French; the Chinese, Mrs. Albert Trull; the Turkish girl, Miss Helen Lydell; the Arabian, Mrs. Frank Perkins. A woman from India was Mrs. W. H. Pepin, who sang a missionary hymn, and Little Dorothy Fleming also sang her little story with pleasing effect.

Mrs. James E. Fleming read an actual experience in winning a soul to Christianity, and Mrs. Joshua French read "As I Love You."

AGENT RESIGNS

Because His Health is Not Good

Because of ill health, O. L. Stenderhaug, agent of the Beaver Brook mills at Coltonville, has resigned, his resignation to take effect in a few weeks. Mr. Stenderhaug's successor has not yet been appointed. He has been agent of the Beaver Brook mills for the last four years.

The Beaver Brook mill is unusually active in the weaving department, and it is stated that the work planter will place it in the front rank of active mills in the near future.

ENTERTAINED FRIENDS

Mr. Charles H. Wing, the well known grocer and provision dealer of Liberty street, completed twenty years of business life yesterday and last night the event was remembered when Mr. Wing entertained his employees at his home, 734 Stevens street, with a supper. Following the supper a musical and literary program was carried out, and Mr. and Mrs. Wing were presented a handsome, silver-plated cream tank by Mr. Wing's employees.

GENERAL READE

LECTURED AT VARNUM SCHOOL
LAST NIGHT

At the Varnum school hall last night, Gen. Philip Reade, retired, gave his lecture on "Military Life Among the Moors."

It was the second in a series of three educational lectures conducted by the school. The lecture was a most interesting one and was enjoyed by a large and interested audience. It was an illustrated lecture and the pictures used were gathered by Gen. Reade during his time in the Philippines as a United States army officer. The fact that he has personal knowledge of his subject makes Gen. Reade's lecture, which he has given several times before local audiences, the more interesting.

The third and last in the series of lectures will be by George H. Taylor on "London from the Top of a Bus."

HELD BANQUET

MEDALS PRESENTED TO MEMBERS OF COMPANY G

The annual distribution of marksmanship medals to the members of Company G, Sixth regiment, M. V. M., was held last night at the armory. Besides the presentation of medals there was an excellent banquet followed by an enjoyable entertainment. Capt. Stewart W. Wise, inspector of small arms practice, attached to the Sixth regiment, made the presentation and among the other officers present were Capt. Colby T. Kittredge of the paymaster's department attached to the Sixth regiment, First Lt. Peterson of Co. C, Corp. Houston of Co. K, Corp. Walte of Battery C of Lawrence and Capt. Durrell, formerly of Co. G.

Following the regular drill, where dress uniforms were worn, the members went to the mess hall, where an enjoyable banquet was served under the direction of Corps. Fugh and Barker, assisted by Lieut. Gargan.

Following the supper, the men went to the company rooms, where a pleasing entertainment was prepared. The presentation of medals took place here, and Capt. Wise complimented the company on its excellent work and high standard of efficiency.

In addition to the medals given out, the only new expert is Private Gargan, Huras. Quartermaster Sergeant Heath qualified as an expert with the pistol.

During the evening remarks were made by Capt. Durrell and Kittredge, Lieut. Peterson, Doyle and Mottram of the company and Corps Walte and Houston. This was followed by a piano solo by Private Herbert Hild and songs by Private O'Brien and Artiller Hinds. And, of course, Capt. Javes was on hand, looking after everything.

One of the features of the evening was a three round bout between Privates Harry and Reardon, which was refereed by Private Keeler. Following this was a 10 minute wrestling exhibition between Scott Barnes and Private Hild, refereed by Private O'Brien.

Out of 69 men in the company, 53 were present, and the affair was enjoyable from start to finish. The arrangements were in charge of Lieut. Doyle.

A banquet was served and during the post-prandial ceremonies Eminent Sir Herbert C. Taft, who retired from office of recorder, following several years of most efficient service, was surprised by Eminent Commander Farnham, informing him that when he returned home he could find there installed a sectioned box which was presented by the commandery in recognition of his valuable services.

JOHN GUNCKEL

TO SPEAK IN THIS CITY ON APRIL 27

At a meeting of the public school teachers, called by Supt. Whitcomb and held at the High school hall, yesterday afternoon, a paper on "Responsibility of the Schools for Truant and Delinquent Teachers" was read by Miss Kennedy of the Varnum school.

The paper was written by Miss Julia Richardson, assistant superintendent of New York city schools, and read by her at the national meeting of superintendents at Chicago. Supt. Whitcomb succeeded in obtaining the manuscript and had a copy made.

Mr. Whitcomb gave several notices, and announced that John E. Gunckel, father of the Newsboys club of Toledo, O., will speak in this city on the 27th of April. The 2000 Newsboys club is said to be the most remarkable organization of its kind in the country. The constitution requires that the members refrain from smoking, cigarettes, and from other objectionable things, and the remembrance of it is that that club boys are said to be living up to the constitution in that and other respects.

TALKED ON GRAFT

Interesting Address by
John C. Burke

At the Centralville Methodist church last evening, John C. Burke entertained a large audience with an address on "Graft."

He was introduced by Rev. J. T. Carlson and he spoke in part as follows:

"Twenty-five years ago a man had to fulfill his obligations, had to take care of his family, had to live straight or he was ostracized. Does he have to do all those things now? Is he laxity in any one of them a bar to social or business success?"

"Is it any wonder that men have risen to heights in the political world, when those who possess the ballots allow them to do so? If we have pure politics we must make up our minds to make great self sacrifices. The practical politicians can be removed, and in their stead can be chosen men who will take the offices, not because they need or want them, but because they can fill them properly. We should elect men who can get an honest living in some other legitimate avenue of life. It will be a sacrifice for such men as these to give their time to municipal affairs, but it must be done for the good of the community. The remedy for grafting in municipalities lies in the hands of the people, if they will only get together. There is no need for discouragement. If we don't use the ballots properly we have no right to complain. And by using them rightly we can cut down this monster of graft."

During the evening Mrs. Johnson gave most effectively several bass solos, with Miss Allena E. Luce as the accompanist.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Spring is here! There's no further question about it, for today's Marcher Union had the following:

"Frank P. Thynne, manager of the Lowell Independents, a fast semi-professional team of Lowell, Mass., is anxious to secure games away from home for Fast day and also for Saturdays and holidays during the season, in the state."

Mr. Thynne's address is 403 Stevens street, Lowell, Mass."

have made such a remarkable impression upon our trade and have sold so quickly to those who have taken the trouble to examine them, that we propose to continue their sale indefinitely.

We attribute the success of this sale to the fact that the RENG BELT feature of this corset actually accomplishes the reduction of hips and produces beautifully moulded lines in the back and below the waist. RENG BELT is a new invention which develops wonderful grace in the medium and large figure, which does not make style at the sacrifice of comfort, and which does not consist of strapping or lacing of any sort. It is a part of the corset itself, shaped to protect hips and back.

RENGO BELT CORSETS also have other great advantages—they are boned throughout with device watching steel, which is rust-proof. The boning is perfectly covered before it is sewed into the corset and is guaranteed not to break or punch through.

If you have searched unsuccessfully for a corset that fits you, a RENG BELT perfectly fitted at our corset Department will surely be found satisfactory.

FLUFFY RUFFLES

Violet Fleming, the dainty little miss who assists Little Williams in the Suffragette scene in "Fluffy Ruffles," was recently asked to write her biography and this is what she said. Hemings have been in the profession from the days of Queen Elizabeth when actors were styled "Rouges and Vagabonds." First Hemings was published to "Shakespeare's" works. Great friends to Hall Caine, the novelist. It was at Greba, Castle (Hall Caine's home) she first saw Viola Allen, being photographed on her lap as a little child.

MISS FIELDS' SHEATH GOWN

Since the first appearance of the famous French dressmaker, the stage has been made one of the most conspicuous exhibit grounds for this latest freak dress creation. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the stage can be made the stamping ground for any novelty in dress creation. Realizing the importance that the sheath gown would add to in her profession, Miss Marguerite Fields, who is Kirk Brown's leading woman, was one of the first purchasers of the expensive importation of sheath gowns that was displayed at Philippsburgh 23d St. store, New York City last spring. Miss Fields' gown is said to be one of the most expensive that has ever been brought to this country. She will wear it during Mr. Brown's performance of Sarah Bernhardt's version of "Camille" at the Lowell Opera House Wednesday matinee.

Mr. Brown opens his special five days' engagement Tuesday matinee with a complete scenic production of the "Charity Hall."

One of the greatest of the recent Colonial war romances, "Captain Harrington" is the Tuesday evening play.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Pauline, a noted hypnotist, will do a big business at Hathaway's theatre this week. Pauline is a man, a remarkable one, too, and his work carries with it much of conviction. It will convince the skeptical that there is a deal to hypnotism, when applied to one who has made a deep study of the subject. There are plenty of comedy to the act, and altogether it is quite the best demonstration of hypnotism yet seen here.

class actors and actresses. It is the old story of a gay father, who has a gay son. Each tries to convince the other that there is nothing about him not good. But it all leads out in the finish. Father and son marry chorus girls.

Other acts on this bill are: Henry Cave, burlesque pianist and general entertainer, assisted by Miss Nal Sturges Walker, Peter and Yocco, harpists, cellists and singers; Hastings and Wilson, acrobatic lunatics; Jennings and Rentrow, "the boys who sing their own songs"; Smith and Arago, and the Bathscape.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week with special seats for women at the matinees.

THEATRE VOYONS

A new pleasing variety marks the program offered at the Theatre Voyons today, and everyone of its numbers is a distinct hit. "The Old Soldier's Story" will not only give you a sentimental picture for the romance of two days told by the old man and pictured on the screen, but just interesting enough to hold the attention from the first to the last. "Polka on the Brain" is a clever and laughable comedy with a lot of good sentiment in it. "The Reng Belt" tells how a love story of a girl and young man, the object of his affection being a blind, sentimental, "Life Among the South American Indians" is one of the very best travel pictures of the year, and it shows many interesting scenes in a village there. The native Indians make up a very fine and the youngsters are really quite nice. Both songs are very good.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The picture ever given to the public, and that means best, is the picture that is found at the Academy of Music. A bright, clean and thoroughly entertaining show is given every night for the entertainment of the public. The Academy's care and discrimination in the selection of its attractions and its not permit anything less than the best to be presented. Parents need feel no hesitation in allowing their children to attend the Academy.

WOMAN'S BODY

FOUND IN CANAL IN DAYTON, OHIO

DAYTON, O., March 12.—Another mystery confronts the police in the discovery yesterday of the decomposed body of an unknown white woman in the canal below the Apple street bridge. In the opinion of the officers, it must have lain in the water about a month. The woman apparently was 30 years old and well dressed. She was attired in black. Decomposition, it is feared, will prevent identification. The place where the body was found is distant from the nearest house, probably more than a thousand feet. The spot is approximately 300 feet south of the Apple street bridge. The body was found lying half out on the bank, face down. Both hands were clenched and were near the throat as if the woman had tried to protect herself.

This Grows Hair

---Prove It Yourself

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by every druggist who sells it to give satisfaction in every case. There may be other remedies that make the same offer, but we have never heard of one.

Not only so, but make the offer as printed above, but we say to every man and woman that Parisian Sage is the best hair dressing ever compounded. We claim that it will turn harsh, unattractive hair into bright, lustrous and luxuriant hair in a few days. We claim that it will grow hair long and plentiful. We don't "prove it" by somebody a thousand miles away, but we say "prove it yourself," and we mean what we say—prove it at our expense. Get a bottle today. If it doesn't do all we claim for it your druggist will give you your money back. That's the best proof the world has of the kind of stuff that's easy to prove.

Parisian Sage is not sticky or greasy; it is the most pleasant and invigorating hair tonic in the world. Women of refinement who desire beautiful hair should get a bottle at once. 50 cents a large bottle at Carter & Sherburne's (the girl with the Auburn hair on outside of every package), or direct, charges prepaid, from American makers, Group Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Since jingles have become the style, we use them in our ads. a pile. I hope you read 'em once in a while. The prices ought to make you smile.

FOR THREE DAYS MORE

I will continue the inauguration of my eleventh year in the low-price tailoring business of New England with the greatest offer of my career. I am going after you, Mr. Sun reader, hammer and tongs, with the most irresistible tailoring bargains ever made by man.

Below I present a likeness of my open-door

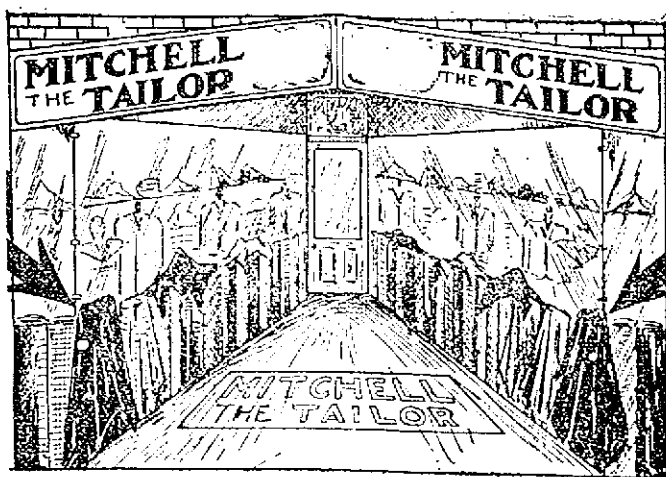

salesroom. This arrangement is designed to meet the requirements of men who are skeptical and who do not like to enter a store in search of things they fear they cannot get. I have therefore placed out in the street, where you can see, feel and handle them, woolens that I will match with the $40 suitings of any tailor in the land.

On the left side of the entrance is a blue serge of national repute, guaranteed 14 oz. weight, dyed in the wool and warranted to stand the test of sun and salt sea air. Examine this goods to your heart's content, without interference or solicitation, and if it meets with your approval, call my salesman and tell him to measure you for a suit and free pair of trousers--- the price to be $12.00 for the suit and pants.

On the right side of the door I show a 16 oz. black unfinished worsted made in the most famous mill of the Pawtucket Valley, sold by tailors all over this country for $28 to $40. Examine it: if you find it to be all I represent it, call my salesman, tell him to measure you for a suit with free trousers and the price is $12.00 for the suit and pants.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public

SUBURBAN BARGAIN DAY.
The board of trade is making a good move in its endeavor to establish a suburban bargain day in Lowell. Sufficient inducements can be offered to bring a large number of suburbanites into the city once a week. The railroad service may be increased if necessary to accommodate the patrons on any particular line; but that will be necessary only when the undertaking has been boomed to a successful issue.

SPEAKER CANNON REASSURED.
It looks now as if Speaker Cannon is assured of reelection. The members of the house, however, will make it uncomfortable for Mr. Cannon if he undertakes to use his power in an arbitrary manner to suppress any discussion or legislation which he considers distasteful to the republican party. Cannon is a rank partisan and he will go the limit unless he be tripped up by the opposition. The so-called "insurgents" in the republican party are not of much account, and if Cannon is to be restrained in his czar-like policy, it must be as a result of democratic opposition.

A WORD TO THE REPRESENTATIVES.
It is reported that some of the Lowell delegation to the legislature are opposed to the new charter. Any member who would oppose this movement for a new charter should be retired at the next election. If any member does not approve the entire document, he should offer amendments to make it to his liking rather than oppose it in toto. The representative who is not manly enough to do that is not fit to represent any district in Lowell.

THE STANDARD OIL CASE.
The Standard Oil case has been dropped by the federal government in spite of all the talk there has been about the twenty-nine million dollar fine and the outrage as President Roosevelt called it of remitting that fine. It seems to be up to the individual states to frame anti-trust laws that will prohibit the operation of trusts within their borders. The state of Texas and other western states have framed anti-trust laws for this purpose, laws that have already been successfully applied against the Standard Oil company. When the federal courts fail to do their duty it devolves upon the states individually to carry on the fight.

SUNDAY PICTURE SHOWS.
We are glad to note that Mayor Brown has at last seen the light in regard to allowing pictures shows to run on Sundays. "The Sunday picture shows," he is reported as saying, "must stop." That is right, Mr. Mayor. Now, keep to your decision and do not bother with public hearings on future applications at which the ministers, you say, will have an equal chance to be heard.

This community will not stand for a continuance of the picture shows on Sunday, no matter how many hearings may be held or what may be said at the hearings. If any citizen wants a license to do what is wrong and demoralizing to the community, why should a public hearing be called to enable the mayor to decide whether such license should be granted? Let the prohibition of Sunday picture shows be put in force without any strings to it and without any chance of evasion.

TAKING POWER FROM THE PEOPLE.
"We don't want the new charter because it takes power away from the people." That is a frequent expression among people in certain quarters when discussing the new charter bill. Because the bill provides for the appointment by the mayor of a few officials who have heretofore been elected by the city council, we are told there is a drive to take power away from the people. In point of fact this so-called board of trade charter gives the people five times as much power over the city government as they possess under the present charter. How much power have the people over a superintendent of streets at the present time? That official is controlled by nobody except the men who elect him, the aldermen and councilmen, and that is why there is so much deadwood in some of the departments. These officials elected by the city council are dogged by councilmen and aldermen in the interests of their constituents. With these "statesmen" it is a matter of securing reelection or paying political debts, and the men who have a political pull are the only ones who can get a job. It has even gone so far that men who are of no use as workmen are held on the pay-roll often when not needed, and some of them have even gone so far as to tell the superintendent that he dare not fire them. Wherein have the people any power under such a system? The politicians can get the jobs for their friends, whether these friends can do a day's work or not.

The alternative of election by the people would not help matters very much. The voters cannot select the most competent man for head of any department. A man with a political pull but wholly without any business qualification for the office may secure the nomination and then the voters have no choice but to elect him. Were the mayor given the appointing power he could deliberately select the best man available for each office, and if he failed the blame would fall upon his head. If things went wrong the mayor would be held responsible, and he would thus take care to look after the interests of the people. If he proved incompetent, recreant or dishonest, the people have the remedy in the "Recall."

Some of the opponents of this new charter try to minimize the value of the recall, but it is one of the most potent weapons for good government ever placed in the hands of the voters. They have never had it and yet they say that in slightly increasing the mayor's powers and vastly increasing the people's powers, the power is being taken away from the people. This is a fallacy, a falsehood put in circulation by politicians who might lose part of their pull if the new charter were adopted. If the wage earners, the real people, not the bums and loafers, will consider their own interests they will readily see that the centering of responsibility will put the business of the city on a business basis, will cause the officials to see that the money appropriated is wisely spent. What does this mean but for the best interests of the community at large, for the wage earners and the business men alike, but not for the grafters and the loafers.

SEEN AND HEARD
The name of "Yankee" Locke is recalled by an old program of a show at the Museum which was located where the Hildreth building now stands. The program dates as far back as November, 1848. The program reads: Two Nights More!
Last night of the beautiful drama of "Madeline," or "The Child of the Regiment," concluding with the laughable farce called "The Omnibus."
A foot-note reads as follows: In consequence of the immense preparation attendant upon the opening of the New Museum, the manager has been compelled to defer it for a few nights, in order to perfect its appointments and render it as desirable a place of AMUSEMENT AS ANY IN THE COUNTRY. The casts were as follows: Madeline, or The Child of the Regiment: Suppice, an old sergeant, Mr. Gernon; Andreas, Mr. Locke; Ganiard, Mr. Rogers; Corporal, Mr. Davis; Drummer, Mr. Warner; First Soldier, Mr. Johnson; Madeline, the Child of the Regiment, Mrs. Gernon; Marchonnes, Mrs. Gernon.
The Omnibus, or Ten Miles from Town: Pat Rooney, Mr. Rogers; Mr. Ledger, Mr. Locke; Mr. Dobbs, Mr. Davis; Master Jenny Dobbs, Mr. Gernon; Mrs. Dobbs, Mrs. Gernon; Julia, Mrs. Gernon. Tickets admitting two persons at once, 25 cents. No boys admitted unless accompanied by parents or guardians.

It has been said that the best way to teach a man to swim is to throw him overboard. It would not do with some men, however; they would be too lazy to come to the top to be rescued. On the other hand, there is now and then a man who can be made to forget his troubles and to help himself if you can only convince him that he is receiving outside aid. A well known New York man tells of such an individual. The individual in this case was a stranded actor. He had been without employment for two months, and he looked the part. By virtue of maintaining a vigorous correspondence, he finally managed to obtain an engagement with a theatrical company that was playing in a town 25 miles away. He did not have enough money to pay his railroad fare and so he proceeded to do what inexperienced travelers generally do under such circumstances, namely, to walk. After he had tramped for about one-third of his journey he began to grow footsore and weary. Holes introduced the soles of his aching feet to the rough spots in the road. Blisters formed. The actor's limbs wavered and wobbled. He became intensely thirsty. Finally giving up in despair, he threw himself down in the shade of a roadside tree. Near at hand was a canal, and as the actor lay on the ground wondering how he was either to get on in his journey or back where he started, a canal boat hove in sight. It was pulled by an ancient horse, and progressed slowly. As it came toward the actor, it occurred to him that perhaps the owner might help him, toward his destination. He suggested this idea to the captain himself. "I must get there tonight," he said, "and I'm too tired to take another step. If you will help me I will gladly work my passage." The canal boatman nodded. "All right," he said, "glad to do it; just lead the horse." At last at last! exclaimed the actor in his most dramatic manner. "At last, I am saved!"

Men and Women Suffering with "Nerves" Read This
The impairment of the nervous force in men and women is first manifested by nervousness, sleeplessness, dread, worry and anxiety without reason, trembling of the hands and limbs, with the slightest exertion, heart palpitation, constipation, kidney trouble, and a general inability to get rationally at all times as there is health in their bodies. This, if neglected, leads to despondency, morbidness, loss of ambition, making the likelihood of a cure more and more difficult, while frequently locomotor ataxia, "blind staggers," paralysis and even insanity are a direct result of neglecting to increase the life-giving nerve force.
A simple home treatment has been provided which, if taken in time, will certainly work wonders. The mixture can be prepared at home by obtaining the four ingredients separately, and the embitterment or acidity which most sensitive people abhor is thus avoided. The ingredients are pure and used in various prescriptions.
In a half pint bottle get three ounces of Syrup Sarsaparilla compound, and add to this one ounce compound fluid balsam, and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence carobol, and one ounce fluid extract of Sassafras, mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at retiring.
This contains no opiates whatever and may also be used by men and women who suffer with their nerves and absolute certainty of prompt and lasting benefit.

STEAMER DIMOCK
Preparation to Float Her Today
CHATHAM, March 12.—Preparations were begun today for the floating of the stranded steamer H. F. Dimock, now lying broadside on the beach at Nauset where she ran for shelter after having her hull stove in by a collision with the steamer Horatio Hall on Thursday. The weather conditions early today had changed very little from yesterday, a brisk northwest wind still blowing, although probably with not so much strength. The task of putting the Dimock into useful service again was considered today a serious proposition. Her position was very unfavorable for the wreckers. She was lying keeled over on her port side about 200 yards from shore, with a great gap in her port side and another in her bow. In order to repair the hole in her side it was thought that it would be necessary to lighten the vessel of her cargo and roll her over on her starboard side. The tug Orion and Underwriter with the lighter Fairmount and the revenue cutter Gresham were at the scene today and other wrecking apparatus was expected to arrive today. The captain and crew of the Dimock, 25 men all told, remained on board the wreck throughout the night. In case the wind should veer around to the eastward and a gale spring up, which would imperil the lives of the men, a stout ladder was stretched between the steamer and the shore last night to serve as a life-line.

Mayor Brown to Grant No More Licenses
Asked today what he had decided to do relative to Sunday moving picture shows, if he had decided to "cut them out" in accordance with his promise to the Lowell Ministers' Union, Mayor Brown said:
"I will write a letter to the Ministers' Union in which I will say that I will not give my approval to any more Sunday picture shows on Sunday, which was untrue. He had merely promised to give the matter careful consideration."

BIG RECEPTION
IS BEING PLANNED FOR ARCH-BISHOP O'CONNELL
A number of the prominent men of the diocese met last night to devise ways and means of receiving Archbishop O'Connell on his return from Rome. No definite plans were formulated, but it is the intention of a number of the more prominent men of the diocese to appoint a ways and means committee, looking to a reception to the archbishop which will meet with the approval of everyone.

DOCTORS HEARD

Investigation of Lynn Hospital

LYNN, March 12.—The earlier hours of last night's hearing in connection with the charges of neglect and inadequate treatment of patients at the hospital for contagious diseases was given over to witnesses who believed the hospital to be properly conducted. Although a majority of these testified that their experience in connection with the hospital showed that the institution was properly supplied with nurses, and that these gave all necessary attention to patients, the cross-examination of several by Mayor Jas. E. Rich and others brought out points in variance to this.

Many of the witnesses were physicians who were attached to the hospital at some time or were connected with it temporarily through having patients there. Among these there was diversity of opinion as to whether the attendance of nurses during the night was necessary. But few among them said this was so, though these few cited instances where non-attendance had brought about a serious and sometimes fatal condition of patients.

A complete refutation of the charges against her, made in several of the affidavits, was made by Mrs. Mary Chase, matron of the hospital. Especially, she denied charges of diverting other and other gifts intended for patients.

The statement of Jonathan Beavis, superintendent of the hospital, that he had received a letter from the board of health at one time urging the need of economy at the hospital, gave rise to much discussion, in which Chairman William Cowan of the board and Alderman John McKenna, chairman of the board, took part. McKenna, in his statement, admitted writing the letter, stating that he qualified it by adding, "Without stating where money is needed," and Alderman McKenna said that no requirements had been made upon the board of health, and that it had exceeded the hospital appropriation of $10,000 by more than one thousand dollars.

Mrs. Mary Condon, a nurse at the hospital, in the course of cross-examination by Mayor Rich, admitted her lack of instruction and practice in administering anti-toxin to diphtheria patients. She stated that prior to coming to the Lynn hospital several years ago, she had never administered anti-toxin, but that a month after becoming attached to the institution she had done so. Mrs. Condon denied that one of the diphtheria patients at the hospital was forced to drag herself to the bathroom during the night when she was straining, so that she might get water.

How to Cure a Terrific Headache.

Many people suffer with an aching head week after week, occasionally getting relief from so-called headache powders and nerve-strengthening drugs. They never get cured because they start wrong. Such people should do a little commonsense thinking. Headache is simply the result, a warning signal, of a far more serious trouble. Usually it means bad blood poisoned by an inactive or sluggish liver. Headache sufferers are often nervous, cross and irritable. Their sleep is disturbed and digestion impaired. The liver doesn't do its work right, and the bile elements poison both nerve and brain.

$50,000 SUIT

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 12.—A $50,000 libel suit, instituted by Father Clarke, pastor of the Roman Catholic parish at Torbay, against the Plain Dealer, a local newspaper, just after the general elections in November, was thrown out of court yesterday by Justice Emerson of the supreme court.

The newspaper charged that several obnoxious, including Father Clarke, had used their influence in behalf of the bond government and had displayed partisanship.

In court yesterday Father Clarke admitted that he had solicited votes in half of the Bondites, whereupon Sir James Wilmot, counsel for the newspaper, asked for a non-suit, contending that the criticism of the priest referred to his political and not his sacerdotal actions. Justice Emerson agreed and ordered the case dismissed. The editor of the newspaper and Justice Emerson, who is a close friend of Fr. Clarke, are Roman Catholics.

Presided Over Meeting of Hardware Dealers

SPRINGFIELD, March 12.—Five hundred members of the New England Hardware association were in attendance at the annual meeting of the organization which opened late yesterday. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor William E. Sanderson, who presented them with a "key to the city." The key is made of wood and is about 16 feet long, and its presentation was the occasion of much laughter and applause. Samuel H. Thompson of Lowell, president of the association, responded to the address of welcome. He also presented his annual report in which he declared "I believe we are facing an era of prosperity such as the sun has never shone on before. The last great obstacle to overcome is the tariff. Let us hope that this congress may have the wisdom to appoint a permanent tariff commission."

THE "INSURGENTS"

HELD A MEETING BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

WASHINGTON, March 12.—For more than three hours last night the republicans "insurgents" discussed behind closed doors the opposition they propose to make next Monday, when the first congress convenes, to the adoption of the rules of the last house to govern it.

The leaders of the movement expressed entire satisfaction with the size of the meeting, claiming that at least 100 members would vote with them against the rules. It is known that much of the time at the meeting was devoted to discussion of a compromise with the organization forces. The suggestion was made by the insurgents to enter into a compromise with the regulars whereby a committee would be appointed at the beginning of the special session to revise the rules of the house.

NORTH BILLERICA

Electric car traffic through North Billerica was tied up for a time last night owing to the breaking of an axle on one of the Wolcott bound cars at Perry's corner. The accident happened shortly before ten o'clock. Word was sent to Lowell and a wrecking crew was soon on the scene and after making temporary repairs the car was sent back to Lowell under its own power.

While the outward bound track was blocked by the disabled car, it was necessary for out-bound cars to use the inbound rail for a considerable distance. The car was manned by Conductor Dave Curran and Motorman Thomas Towers.

BIG LABOR WAR

IS THREATENED NOW IN NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, N. S., March 12.—As a result of the motion of the coal operators of Nova Scotia combining their forces to fight the entry of the United Mine Workers of America into this province a great labor war is predicted. Representatives of the various mining companies have just met in a secret session and agreed that they would use every endeavor to prevent the Mine Workers of America from gaining control of the labor at the mines in this province as such a step might ultimately result in the loss of a large part of the Nova Scotia coal trade to Americans. Representatives of the United Mine Workers are now in Nova Scotia, organizing unions in the collieries districts, but the mine operators say that they will not recognize the new organization. The operators have all agreed to stand by the Provincial Workmen's association. There are over 14,000 men employed in the various collieries and over one-third of them have joined the American organization.

ANOTHER MACHINE

PLAN IS BASED ON NOVEL LINES

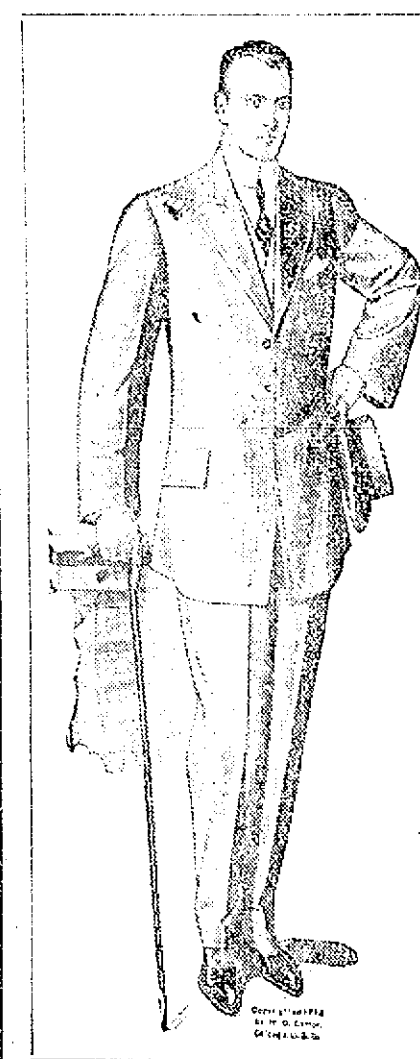

DAYTON, O., March 12.—The home of the Wright brothers produced another claimant to high honors in the field of aeronautics in the person of the inventor, W. J. Richardson, whose plans for a flying machine are based on novel and original lines. Mr. Richardson made a test of the invention yesterday in a field north of this city, starting from the ground without artificial aid rising to a height of over 300 feet and remaining in the air for 35 minutes. The Richardson machine was under perfect control at all times and his claim that he could have remained in the air for 24 hours apparently was well founded.

Inventor Richardson claims there exists no further mechanical defects in perfect aviation. Representatives of the French government have been negotiating with Mr. Richardson, with relation to experimentation abroad.

Suit Results From the Larchmont Disaster

Lectured on Spiritual and Mental Healing

PROVIDENCE, March 12.—The loss of the Joy line steamer Larchmont and 181 of her passengers and crew in Block Island sound on the night of Feb. 11, 1907, was recalled yesterday by the filing of two suits in the superior court against the Joy Line Steamship company.

The plaintiffs are Emma Winkler of Kossor, Austria, her four children, and Edith Stelzer, also of Austria, and her three children. The Winklers, being suit for $10,000 as damages to compensate them in a measure for the death of Mrs. Winkler's husband, Benjamin, who was a passenger on the Larchmont.

A claim for the same amount is made by the Stelzers for the loss of Benjamin Stelzer, the husband and father. The plaintiffs allege that the loss of life was due to the careless and negligent manner with which the Larchmont was navigated.

The Larchmont was sunk while on her way from New York to New York for colliding with the schooner Henry J. Knowlton, bound from New York for St. John. The schooner was badly damaged, but was saved.

There is a difference of opinion in legal circles whether damages can be collected for the deaths of passengers. In the case of the Larchmont, which was lost in a storm in 1898 and probably not as the result of a collision, suits for damages brought by relatives of the passengers were thrown out of court, and not a cent was ever collected.

The circumstances in the case of the Larchmont are of course different, although negligence in navigating part in the face of an impending gale was advanced in the Portland suits.

The Larchmont was formerly the steamer Cumberland of the International Steamship company and ran for years on the route between Boston, Portland, Eastport, Me., and St. John.

MAGNESS FREED
THROUGH THE EFFORTS OF HIS WIFE

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.—By persistent and untiring efforts, Mrs. Magness, formerly Miss Ada Gorman, daughter of the late Senator Gorman of Maryland, has obtained the release of her husband from the navy prison at Portsmouth, N. H., and the couple is now traveling in Canada.

Charles J. Magness was recently arrested as a deserter from the navy and sentenced to one year imprisonment by the navy department.

His defense was that he suffered from a sort of delirium as a result of his love for the girl he married. Magness obtained his release on account of good behavior after serving one-third of his term.

BROKEN LEG
DID NOT PREVENT MAN FROM MARRYING

NASHUA, N. H., March 12.—Friends who have been calling upon Mrs. Lafayette at his home, 27 Spring street, in this city, during the time that he has been confined to his bed with a broken leg, were surprised yesterday when they learned that despite his injuries he had married his housekeeper, Thelma Jennie Travers, the ceremony having occurred on March 4.

It had been known right along that Mrs. Travers and Mr. Lafayette planned to be married in the fall, but they stole a march on their friends by calling in the Rev. W. B. Bolster of the Pilgrim Congregational church on inauguration day and having the knot tied.

The groom was propped up on his sickbed while the ceremony was being performed. Mr. Lafayette, who is a carpenter, sustained an injury by a fall from a ladder three weeks ago.

COULD NOT CURE
WEEPING ECZEMA

Disease Began over Ear and Spread till Face and Neck were Raw—Itching, Inflammation and Soreness were Terrible—Lasted Over a Year and All Treatments Failed

UNTIL CUTICURA AGAIN PROVED GREAT SUCCESS

"Eczema began over the top of my ear. It cracked, it itched, it spread. I had tried different doctors and tried several things, but they did me no good. At last one of my friends told me of Cuticura. The water ran out of it so that I had to wear medicated cotton, and it was so inflamed and sore that I had to put a piece of cloth over my pillow to keep the water from it, and it would stain the cloth a sort of yellow. The eczema spread so that it seemed as though I could tear my face all to pieces. The disease began in the fall and I did everything for it until the next winter. Then I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and it was not more than three months before it was all healed up. I still use the Cuticura Resolvent Pills once in a while to cleanse the blood. I am very thankful that I tried Cuticura, and I can recommend it to any one. Miss Ann Pearson, Northfield, Vt., Dec. 19, '07."

John Whitehead, A.M., Th. B., of Boston, gave the second in his series of lectures on "Spiritual and Mental Healing," last night in Middlesex hall. His subject was "Casting Out Demons, and Its Relation to Modern Psychology." In part, he said:

"Any one who has ever read the literature of the first centuries before and after the coming of our Lord, or the history of ancient nations, is familiar with the belief that the spirits of the dead could enter the bodies of the living, and that they could do harm to the living. It is clearly embodied in the New Testament, although not so much in the Old Testament.

"The New Testament is full of stories of spirits taking possession of and controlling the body. A person is said to be possessed by a demon, or a devil, but the language of 'demons' is incorrect. It should be 'spirits.' These writings discriminate between people possessed of demons and lunatics. A lunatic is different from a man who is possessed. His mind is unbalanced. An obsessed person is controlled by an unseen force and he has no control over himself. For the time being, there is a clear distinction.

"The ancients clearly believed in obsession and that it was caused by demons.

"The question now arises, whether these cases spoken of in the New Testament are the product of the interference of evil spirits with the normal mind or to modern diseases now ascribed to other causes. Dr. Worcester says that a modern physician would diagnose such cases as epilepsy or hysteria and he believes that Christ was ignorant of psychology when he showed the popular belief of the time.

"There is a man who stands at the head of a church and professes to believe that Christ was divine yet he speaks of his ignorance of psychology. Christ's mission was to bring to the world a healing and health to the soul and yet one of his ministers, accuses him of being ignorant of psychology.

"I am sure that if he had known the facts of the case, he would have said that Christ was divine. Here is actual testimony in the New Testament as to the reality of these things. Modern scientists have discarded explanations of these cases as superstitious, but they have established phenomena, previously discarded by others. Today obsessions are recognized by some physicians, but there is a tendency to ascribe them to material causes.

"My purpose is to bring to you the teachings of Swedenborg on these questions. Christ taught that there were obsessions by evil spirits and he cast them out with a word. These obsessions were in use 500 years before Christ in Babylon and Egypt. It was the universal belief before and after Christ. Swedenborg claims to have been introduced into a state in that he was in two worlds at the same time. At this time he could investigate the spiritual world as he had the natural world. No man ever did this before.

RICHARD KEEFE
RESIGNS AS PROBATION OFFICER IN BOSTON

BOSTON, March 12.—Richard Keefe, probation officer in the municipal court since 1901, resigned yesterday, and Albert J. Sargent, an assistant officer since April, 1906, was appointed to the place.

Mr. Keefe has been probation officer also in the superior criminal court, and the great increase in business in the courts rendered it impossible for him to perform the duties at both places.

His resignation caused a sensation at the courthouse, however. He received $2000 a year as officer in the lower court and $1000 as officer in the superior court, the municipal court and the superior court have separate, independent probation officers. Mr. Keefe as probation officer of the superior court was called on to appear upon cases that he considered in the lower court.

That part of the probation system was regarded as objectionable by many.

GENERAL COURT

Bill for Constitutional Prohibition

DISTRICT ATTORNEY BILL IS KILLED

Butler Amies Railroad Petition Withdrawn—Bill to Have Half Liquor License Money Turned Over to State

BOSTON, March 12.—At the state house yesterday afternoon, after a brief executive session, the committee on constitutional amendments, with three dissenters, voted to report the resolve for an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage.

This sweeping amendment, which, in terms, absolutely prohibits the manufacture in Massachusetts of any liquor whether to be used here or in any other state or country, was petitioned for by Elizabeth P. Gordon and others. The committee gave a hearing on the subject February 24 last and members of the W. C. T. U. were heard in favor and representatives of the interests were heard in opposition. It was an annual hearing. There was no especially strong interest manifested in the matter this year, and it was regarded with no greater degree of seriousness than in other years.

The report of the committee therefore comes as a distinct surprise on Beacon Hill. No attempt has been made for constitutional prohibition in this state since 1859, when a similar amendment was rejected by the people by a majority of almost 50,000. No license cities contributing the largest majorities against the amendment. State officials and members of the legislature generally, outside of the committee, who heard of the committee's vote yesterday afternoon could scarcely credit the news.

After a heated debate the state senate yesterday afternoon practically killed the bill to provide a second district attorney for Middlesex county by referring it to the next general court.

The bill had been ordered to a third reading last week after a debate in which it was opposed by Senator Grimes and others. The main opposition was that it was a measure simply framed to make a place for Representative Horace Hardy of Arlington, a son of Judge Hardy of the superior court.

Reports in the Senate

In the senate these reports of committees were read:

Joint Judiciary—Bill to provide that an employee who reports a defect in machinery and is afterward injured by reason of such defect and neglect of his employer to remedy it shall not be held to have assumed the risk of such injury.

Federal relations—Reference to next general court of the petition of Henry H. Rice for a commission to represent the Commonwealth at the Alaska-Yukon exposition at Seattle.

Street railways—Leave to withdraw to Butler Amies at his own request on his petition to authorize the Boston, Lowell & Lawrence electric railroad to construct an elevated railway.

Liquor law—Bill to require that half of the fees for liquor licenses shall be paid into the state treasury. Senator Shaw, Representative Kemper, Lyman, Lyman and W. H. Chisholm, dissent.

Bill to amend the law relative to licensing theatrical exhibitions so that it shall not apply to entertainments in private houses.

The rule was suspended to admit the petition of the selectmen of Falmouth that a session of the first district court of Barnstable be held in that town once each week.

All the labor bills reported upon adversely by the committees on judiciary and labor were assigned to Tuesday, March 1.

The senate finally killed the recalled amended bill to pay the widow of Irving T. Farnham of Newton the balance of his salary as city engineer.

Mufflers for Motor Boats

After a brief discussion, resumed from Wednesday, the house ordered to a third reading, on a voice vote, the bill to require mufflers or under-water exhausts on motor boats. The bill was favored by Burns of Plymouth, Lyman of Lynn and Barrett of Gloucester, and was opposed by Holman of Attleboro.

In the house these committees' reports were received.

Cities—Leave to withdraw on the bill to enlarge the powers of the school committee of Waltham with respect to physical education.

Judiciary—Leave to withdraw on the bill to repeal the present law prohibiting the enlistment of seamen to desert or leave their vessels.

Town—Leave to withdraw on the bill to establish a fire department and a fire commissioner for the town of Milford.

Public service—A bill to abolish the bureau of statistics of labor and create in its stead a bureau of statistics.

Judiciary—Next general court on the bill to permit the employment of children under 14 years of age in theatrical performances.

Water supply—A bill authorizing the city of Waltham to make an additional water loan of $10,000.

Banks and banking—Leave to withdraw on the bill to incorporate the Massachusetts small loan company.

The same committee—Leave to withdraw on the bill to incorporate the Consolidated loan company.

The same committee—Leave to withdraw on the bill to incorporate the Tilt Mountain savings bank of Boston.

CLEVER BOXING

Another Good Card at Gladstone Club

The Gladstone club held a regular meeting last evening with about 60 members present and, as usual, a first class program. There was an added feature not down on the card that made a big hit and it was the first appearance of the Gladstone fife club, an aggregation of about one dozen near singers, who entertained between the rounds with a series of solemn choruses which were well received. The fife club was voted to be all right only it needs a few new records.

Ross and Merrill, the principal attraction mentioned on the card, did not appear owing to the illness of Ross, and when substitutes were announced in the persons of Mike Grady of Southbridge, who recently boxed Fred Sidney before the club, and Kid McDonald, formerly a B. A. A. amateur champ, but now a full fledged professional, the members were inclined to be a little disappointed for a moment. Once the boys got to it, and that was right off the reel, the disappointment was speedily forgotten and when the affair was over everyone was pleased that the main attraction didn't materialize, for it couldn't have been any better than the Grady-McDonald affair and might not have been as good.

Grady was the cleverer of the pair but he was not in as fine condition as his opponent. McDonald boxed Angus MacDougall at the Armory club last week and hence was in excellent shape. The boys went at it hammer and tongs. McDonald showing a disposition to carry the game to his opponent. Grady showed some very scientific short arm work that mystified McDonald, but the latter was able to take all that came his way without showing any fatigue owing to his fine condition. For 12 rounds without a let-up the pair kept at it, nip and tuck, and when Referee Castello declared it a draw everyone was perfectly satisfied. The sport that was a four round bout between Young Donohue of this city and Ned Daly of Lawrence, Daly looking some 10 pounds heavier than the Lowell boy. The pair went at it briskly but the Lawrence lad had a big advantage in weight. Donohue showed up so finely that the referee gave him the decision though a draw might have been acceptable, for Daly at times appeared to hold back rather than take advantage of his handicap on his opponent. Still it was a most interesting bout throughout.

The second preliminary furnished the comedy of the occasion, and it was good comedy. The contestants were

Flasher Lewis and Castiron Carver, two husky railroad men, who were helpful of enthusiasm and strength, though several clips shy on a fence. It was evident that the friends of the pair had talked the matter over for they were there in goodly numbers and each contestant received a mighty welcome as he entered the ring. Grady was much heavier than Lewis, but the latter was quicker and when Carver would attempt to bring one of his battering rams about, Lewis would bite for the next county and the force of Carver's swing would completely clear

He was 50 years of age and had been ill for some time. His condition became so bad that he was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died on Tuesday.

Indigestion and Misery In Stomach Are Ended Forever

Miserable is the man or woman who suffers from dread indigestion or dyspepsia. There are few diseases which create such misery, long drawn-out suffering, as indigestion. It pursues them before meals, after meals, and between meals; they take it to bed with them. It is with them wherever they go though indigestion is the simplest disease of all to cure.

Tell such afflicted ones, dear reader, of Pape's Diapiesin; urge the sufferer to go to any Pharmacy here and give 50 cents for a case. Such a sufferer would ever bless you because five minutes after taking there would be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, or heart burn, or fullness and discomfort, no belching of Gas or Eructations

Incense was burned at the casket while a choir of Chinamen crooned a number of Oriental melodies to drive away the evil spirits, and the music was such as would drive away any old kind of spirit that had the misfortune to hear it. Yesterday the remains were taken to Boston accompanied by a large delegation of Chinamen and were placed in a tomb

MRS. W. H. PEPIN

Entertained Women's Missionary Circle

The Women's Missionary circle of the First Baptist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Pepin, 412 East Merrimack St. Mrs. H. L. Tibbitts led the devotional exercises. There was a large attendance of members and visitors from the Baptist and North Tewksbury churches.

Mrs. Arthur French was chairman of the program. The circle is studying the "Scripture and Further East," and Mrs. French's subject yesterday was "What Remains to be Done in the Modern World."

Mrs. French divided her subject into four parts. First, the Bible, by Alice French; second, the church, by Mrs. French; third, the world, by Mrs. French; and fourth, the future, by Mrs. French.

Mrs. French read an interesting account of the work of the women's mission in the East, and the work of the women's mission in the West.

AGENT RESIGNS

Because His Health is Not Good

Because of ill health, O. L. Sargent, agent of the Beaver Brook mills at Cambridge, has resigned, his resignation to take effect in a few weeks. Mr. Sargent's successor has not yet been appointed. He has been agent of the Beaver Brook mills for the last four years.

The Beaver Brook mill is unusually active in the weaving department, and it is stated that the work planned will place it in the front rank of active mills in the near future.

GENERAL READE

LECTURED AT VARNUM SCHOOL LAST NIGHT

At the Varnum school last night, Gen. Philip Reade, retired, gave his lecture on "Military Life Among the Monks."

It was the second in a series of three educational lectures conducted by the school. The lecture was a most interesting one and was enjoyed by a large and interested audience. It was an illustrated lecture and the pictures used were gathered by Gen. Reade during his time in the Philippines as a United States army officer. The fact that he has personal knowledge of his subject makes his lecture of unusual interest.

The third and last in the series of lectures will be by George H. Taylor on "London from the Top of a Bus."

HELD BANQUET

MEDALS PRESENTED TO MEMBERS OF COMPANY G

The annual distribution of marksmanship medals to the members of Company G, Sixth regiment, M. V. M., was held last night at the armory. Besides the presentation of medals there was an excellent banquet followed by an enjoyable entertainment. Capt. Stewart W. Wain, inspector of small arms practice, attended the Sixth regiment, made the presentation, and among the other officers present were Capt. Colly T. Kittredge of the paymaster's department, attached to the Sixth regiment, First Lieut. Peterson of Co. C, Corp. Houston, Co. K, Corp. Wade of Battery F of Lawrence and Capt. Burnett, formerly of Co. G.

Following the regular drill, where dress uniforms were worn, the members went to the mess hall, where an enjoyable banquet was served under the direction of Corps. Pugh and Barker, assisted by Private Gargan.

Following the banquet, the men went to the company mess, where a pleasing entertainment was prepared. The presentation of medals took place here, and Capt. Wain complimented the company on its excellent work and high standard of efficiency.

In addition to the medals given out, the newly-arrived Private Edward Harris, of Lawrence, was presented with a marksmanship medal. He is a qualified expert with the rifle.

During the evening remarks were made by Capt. Burnett and Kittredge, Lieut. Peterson, Dodge and Mettram of the company and Corps. Waite and Houston. This was followed by a piano solo by Private Herbert Bird and songs by Private O'Brien and Arthur Hudson. And, of course, Capt. Wain was on hand, looking after everything.

One of the features of the evening was a three round bout between Privates Barry and Reardon, which was refereed by Private Keeler. Following this was a ten-minute wrestling exhibition between Sgt. Burns and Private Board, refereed by Private O'Brien.

Out of 67 men in the company, 55 were present, and the affair was enjoyable from start to finish. The arrangements were in charge of Lieut. Doyle.

Spring Waists

Now Shown

Long sleeves and high collars that predominate in the waists of spring, 1909—so says Mistress Fashion and her fair followers will be content.

But these are only the prominent style characteristics of this great new waist stock that we have just unpacked, unwrapped and placed on display. There are many touches of "difference" that make them new and original.

The trim, firm smartness of the tailored models is only equaled by the fluffy, frilly attractiveness of the "dresses." The black waists never so dressy and refined.

Altogether a really remarkable waist showing—in variety of styles, beauty of materials, excellence of making and modesty of price. The following items are a few of the many new styles we are showing.

TALKED ON GRAFT

Interesting Address by
John C. Burke

At the Centralville Methodist church last evening, John C. Burke entertained a large audience with an address on "Graft."

He was introduced by Rev. J. T. Carlson and he spoke in part as follows:

"Twenty-five years ago a man had to fulfill his obligations, had to take care of his family, had to live straight or he was ostracized. Does he have to do all of those things now? Is it a luxury in any one of them a bar to social or business success?"

"Is it any wonder that men have risen to heights in the political world, when those who possess the balls allow them to do so? If we have pure politics we must make up our minds to make great self sacrifices. The practical politicians can be removed, and in their stead can be chosen men who will take the offices, not because they need or want them, but because they can fill them properly. We should elect men who can get an honest living for some other legitimate avenue of life. It will be a sacrifice for such men as these to give their time to municipal affairs, but it must be done for the good of the community. The remedy for grafting in municipalities lies in the hands of the people, if they will only get together. There is no need for discouragement. If we don't use the ballots properly we have no right to complain. And by using them rightly we can cut down this monster of graft."

During the evening Guy Johnson gave most effectively several bass solos, with Miss Allena E. Luce as the accompanist.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Spring is here! There's no further question about it, for today's Manchester Union has the following:

"Frank P. Thyme, manager of the Lowell Independents, a fast semi-professional team of Lowell, Mass., is anxious to secure games away from home for fast day and also for Saturdays and holidays during the season, in the state."

Mr. Thyme's address is 429 Stevens street, Lowell, Mass.

"Doctor's Daughter"

Says: "I believe that much suffering and many diseases could be prevented if only taken in time. If you are suffering with some hidden trouble you should attend to it at once. Delays are dangerous and may lead to some chronic or fatal disease. The stomach and liver are the cause of much ill health and many fatal diseases. A little stomach trouble is easily cured, but if not attended to soon develops into a serious trouble. For stomach or liver trouble, Stomach-Rite has proven its worth and some of the cures have been really remarkable. It fills my heart with utter thankfulness to think that I have been able to relieve so much suffering among my fellow beings with my remedy. Stomach-Rite treats the stomach and intestinal tract, quickly relieving Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gas, Burning in Stomach or Mouth, and last but not least Constipation. Obtain Stomach-Rite tablets at your druggist. See that the picture of my father, Dr. John Wilbur, is on each box. Accept no substitutes. If you cannot obtain Stomach-Rite, it will be sent to any address, prepaid, upon receipt of price, 50c, by addressing your mail order to "Doctor's Daughter," Westley, R. I.

LUFFY RUFFLES

Viola Heming, the dainty little miss who assists Katie Williams in the Suffragette scene in "Thirty Ruffles," was recently asked to write her biography and this is what she said. Heming has been in the profession from the days of Queen Elizabeth when actors were styled "Rogues and Vagabonds." First Heming was publisher to Shakespeare's works. Great friends to Hamlet, Caine, the novelist. It was at Greeba Castle (Hamlet's home) she first saw Viola Allen, being photographed on her lap as a little child.

Last season played Wendy in "Peter Pan." Only been on the stage one year.

Is a life governess of the Masonic Institution for Boys.

Father a theatrical proprietor in England, owner of a theatre on the Isle of Man, where "The Christian" was first produced.

Has been in America two years.

Uncle, Charles Dutton, now with the "Toy Soldiers" in London.

Is devoted to the stage and wishes to become a dramatic star under Mr. Frohman.

MISS FIELDS' SHEATH GOWN

Since the first appearance of the famous French director, the stage has been made one of the most conspicuous exhibit grounds for this latest freak dress creation. This is due, perhaps, to the fact that the stage can be made the stamping ground for any novelty in dress creation. Realizing the importance that the sheath gown would come to in her profession, Miss Margarette Fields, who is Kirk Brown's leading woman, was one of the first purchasers of the expensive importation of sheath gowns that was displayed at Phillips' 23d St. store, New York City last spring. Miss Fields' gown is said to be one of the most expensive that has ever been brought to this country. She will wear it during Mr. Brown's performance of Sarah Bernhardt's version of "Camille" at the Lowell Opera House Wednesday matinee.

Mr. Brown opens his special five days' engagement Tuesday matinee with a complete scenic production of the "Charity Ball."

One of the greatest of the recent Colonial war romances "Captain Barrington" is the Tuesday evening play.

ETHEL BARRYMORE

W. Somerset Maugham, the author of "Lady Frederick," in which Miss Ethel Barrymore will be seen at the Opera House on March 23d.

JOHN MASON COMING

The management of the Opera House announces the engagement here at an early date for three performances of John Mason in "The Wrecking Hour." The company will be seen before immediately following the close of the Boston engagement and will be the same company and production.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Pauline, a noted hypnotist, will do a big business at Hathaway's theatre this week. Pauline is a man, a remarkable one, too, and his work carries with it much of conviction. It will convince the skeptical that there is a dead to hypothesis, which applied by one who has made a deep study of the subject. There is plenty of evidence to the act, and altogether it is quite the best demonstration of hypnotism yet seen here.

"Life Father, Like Son" as given by the Barrows-Lancaster company, proves a darling little farce, turned out in a facile manner by their first.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN CANAL IN DAYTON, OHIO

DAYTON, O., March 12.—Another mystery confronts the police in the discovery yesterday of the decomposed body of an unknown white woman in the canal below the Apple street bridge. In the opinion of the officers, it must have lain in the water about a month. The woman apparently was 30 years old and well dressed. She was attired in black. Decomposition, it is feared, will prevent identification. The place where the body was found is distant from the nearest house.

RENGO BELT CORSETS

have made such a remarkable impression upon our trade and have sold so quickly to those who have taken the trouble to examine them, that we propose to continue their sale indefinitely.

We attribute the success of this sale to the fact that the RENG BELT feature of this corset actually accomplishes the reduction of hips and produces beautifully moulded lines in the back and below the waist. RENG BELT is a new invention which develops wonderful grace in the medium and large figure, which does not make style at the sacrifice of comfort; and which does not consist of strapping or lacing of any sort. It is a part of the corset itself, shaped to perfect hips and back.

RENGO BELT CORSETS also have other special advantages. They are boned throughout with double watchspring steel, which is rust-proof. The boning is perfectly covered before it is sewed into the corset, and is guaranteed not to break or punch through.

If you have searched unsuccessfully for a corset, that fits you, a RENG BELT perfectly fitted at our Corset Department will surely be found satisfactory.

6 O'CLOCK SAVITHES IS FINED

He Appealed and Was Held in $300 Bonds

Jordan S. Savithes, who contends a doubly-doubtful would have done so if the steamship agency at 211 Market street, local police had not interested themselves in the matter.

Mr. Savithes, the defendant, was the next witness and he explained to the court that he and Mr. Monstakis had entered into partnership and were making arrangements for a bond when Mr. Monstakis dropped out of the firm. Savithes then, according to his testimony, endeavored to secure a bond from several surety companies, but was unable to get that particular kind of a bond.

"You know that you had to have a bond before you could do business of that kind, didn't you?" asked Deputy Welch.

"Yes."

"Did you do business after you knew that you were to have a bond?"

"No, sir."

"Didn't you transact any business connected with the forwarding of money to foreign countries between October and a few days ago when you got your bond?"

"I might have sold one or two drafts, while in partnership with Monstakis."

Showing witness what appeared to be a draft issued by Savithes, Deputy Welch asked:

"Did you receive money and make a draft on Feb. 20?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you issue a draft on the 20th of January?"

"I do not know."

"Did you issue that (showing him a draft) on the seventh of November?"

"I don't know."

"Isn't that your writing on that draft?"

"It looks a good deal like mine."

"How long since Monstakis left you?"

"It might be two months, it might be more and it might be less," was the uncertain answer of the witness.

"Why are you issuing drafts with your name and Monstakis' name signed to them when Monstakis is not a member of the firm?"

"Because the books were printed that way. If I signed my own name to them they would not cash the checks."

Attorney Hamel argued that Savithes did not willfully break the law and recommended that the matter be placed on the files of the court.

Deputy Welch, however, said that Savithes deliberately attempted to violate the law and had been called to it by the representative of the bank commissioners and that he did not file the bond until after he had been arrested.

Judge Hadley said that his reason for deliberating at length over the disposition of the case was because of the fact that there was a fixed minimum fine and that he had no discretion but to impose at least that fine if the defendant were guilty.

The court found Savithes guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $50. The defendant appealed and was held under $300 for his appearance before the superior court.

Violated Milk Law

Mrs. A. C. Claremont pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging her with violating the milk law—having milk below the standard, in her possession with intent to sell the same.

It is customary when samples of milk are taken two sealed samples are given to the man on the wagon. When the samples were produced in court it was found that neither was sealed though James E. Hill the milk collector swore that he had sealed the bottles with a light red sealing wax.

counsel for the defense argued that there was no sign on the bottles or stoppers to show that they had been sealed, but Judge Hadley thought differently and finding the defendant guilty imposed a fine of $15. The defendant appealed.

50 YEARS MARRIED

Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Cornock Today

Mr. and Mrs. James Cornock are celebrating today at their home, 34 Andover street, Belvidere, the 50th anniversary of their marriage. Mr. Cornock is 73 years old and his wife is eight years his junior. Mr. Cornock was born in England and came to this country when 21 years old. Mrs. Cornock was born in Danvers, Mass.

Mr. Cornock came to Lowell in 1853 and later he moved to Danvers and subsequently returned to Lowell. He learned the boot and shoe business in England and had for many years a boot and shoe store on Andover street. His trip to this country in the sailing vessel Guy Mannering occupied 32 days. He subsequently visited his native place in England in company with the late French Messenger, a member of Pleasant street, Belvidere.

Mrs. Cornock's maiden name was Emily Griffin. She was married March 12, 1859, in Danvers, Mass. James Cornock, pastor of Maple street church, officiating. Of nine children born to Mr. and Mrs. Cornock, five are living and all are Lowell residents. They are Mrs. R. M. Cornock, Mrs. E. Cornock, and Warren Cornock. The grandchildren are Emily and Paul Cornock, and Dorothy, daughter of Warren Cornock.

Mrs. Sarah Woods of Lowell is Mr. Cornock's only relative living outside his family. George Brumitt of Danvers is the only person living who witnessed the marriage ceremony of Mr. and Mrs. Cornock.

Mrs. Cornock's grandfather, Thomas Clark, assisted in erecting the first cotton machinery in the Merrimack mills here and in Waltham. He was engaged in England for that purpose and because of his skill was paid $7 a day. Three days of the week he superintended the work in the Merrimack mills and the remaining three days he spent in Waltham.

Mrs. Cornock's grandfather, David Griffin, was among the first weavers employed by the Lowell carpet company.

The wedding cake in 1859 was made by a member of the family who was a baker and the wedding cake for the golden wedding celebration this evening will be made by one of his descendants, who is also a baker.

Mr. Cornock always had a love for music and is a good violin player. The reception will be from 4 to 6 o'clock and Mr. and Mrs. Cornock will be assisted by their children in receiving. In the evening there will be a supper and musical and literary entertainment, at which the relatives and immediate friends will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornock are members of the Central M. E. church. They are not members of any other organization. They are enjoying better health at present than for many months. During their long residence

WILL CLOSE TUESDAYS

Merchants Change Day for Half Holiday

Lowell has a wide-awake, up-to-date and progressive Merchants' association, at last and it held a meeting in the board of trade rooms this forenoon to get upon certain matters pertaining to the general business interests of the city. The association has been recently reorganized with Fred G. Garrett as chairman and A. A. Spero as secretary and in the selection of two such successful business men for the head of the new organization the members made a good move.

The membership assessment has been raised and the membership greatly increased and the members hope soon to see enrolled the names of all of Lowell's business men both "the big fellows and the little fellows."

There was a formidable representation of "the big fellows" at today's meeting when the principal business was to determine upon the day on which to have the summer half-holiday, and upon the matter of closing on holidays and on this proposition a very determined opposition to closing on the Monday following Memorial day was led by Mr. J. L. Whiffles, who explained that while he was agreeable to closing every other holiday or when the holiday is observed on a Monday, he believed that the real observance of Memorial day would be lost on Sunday and hence there was no necessity for closing on the day.

This case the members of the merchants' association, the only company to close last Memorial day an opportunity to point to the fact that the organization had come around to their way of thinking relative to Memorial day and the vote was taken to close on May 31.

Mr. Clifford's objection.

The meeting was called to order by Charles Garrett with about 30 members present representing practically all the big stores of the city. The first business was the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by Mr. Spero and their acceptance. Following the reading of the minutes the steady increase in membership was noted.

President appealed but later withdrew the appeal.

GREAT CROWD

SAW PERFORMANCE OF THREE MUSKETEERS

Paul Cazeneuve and the Theatre National Français troupe of Montreal, presented "Les Trois Mousquetaires" last night at the opera house.

The cast was as follows:

Louis XIII Roi de France, M. M. Fleury
Le Cardinal Richelieu, M. Petit Jean
Le duc de Buckingham, M. Geo. Colin
Capitaine de Treville, M. George Athos
Mousquetaire, M. E. Hamel
Mousquetaire, J. P. Pilon
Aramis, M. Louis
Bonaparte Espion du Cardinal, M. Louis

La Reine, M. M. Fleury
Mlle de Winter, M. M. Fleury
Mlle de Bonaparte, M. M. Fleury
Mlle de Bonaparte, M. M. Fleury
Mlle de Bonaparte, M. M. Fleury

The piece was well staged. The star, Paul Cazeneuve, is a clever actor, whose work in dashing roles of the D'Artagnan type is always sure to win favor. Other favorites of the audience were Messrs. Fleury and Hamel, who did really clever work and possess excellent stage voices. Fleury as "Bonaparte" was particularly good. George Colin as "Blaquing" was served by a particularly appropriate physique, looking the part of a "grand seigneur" to a hair.

The same praise cannot be given to Mr. Fleury, who decidedly does not "look like a king" though he was well enough. L. Petit Jean, one of the good actors of the troupe, made a characteristically suave and astute "Richelieu."

In the feminine roles, Mlle. Lucy Marshall as "Anne d'Autriche" did some of the best acting in the cast. Mlle. Hercourt as "Lady de Winter" did her strong part well, and Mlle. Alberta as the pliant "Constance" was quite pleasing.

Tonight, "Napoleon," the second of

FOR THREE DAYS MORE

I will continue the inauguration of my eleventh year in the low-price tailoring business of New England with the greatest offer of my career. I am going after you, Mr. Sun reader, hammer and tongs, with the most irresistible tailoring bargains ever made by man.

Below I present a likeness of my open-door

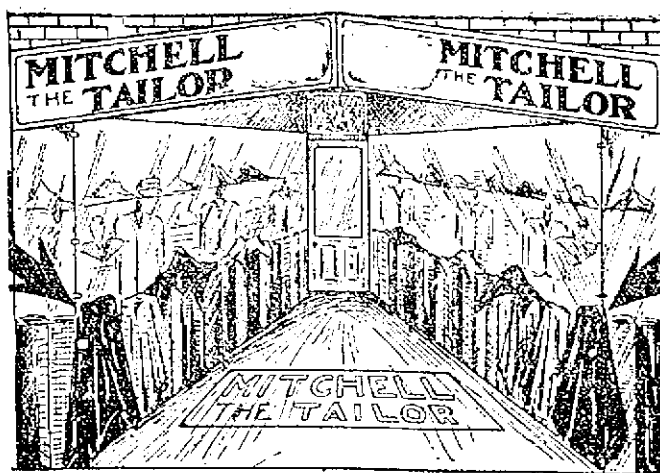

salesroom. This arrangement is designed to meet the requirements of men who are skeptical and who do not like to enter a store in search of things they fear they cannot get. I have therefore placed out in the street, where you can see, feel and handle them, woollens that I will match with the $40 suitings of any tailor in the land.

On the left side of the entrance is a blue serge of national repute, guaranteed 14 oz. weight, dyed in the wool and warranted to stand the test of sun and salt sea air. Examine this goods to your heart's content, without interference or solicitation, and if it meets with your approval, call my salesman and tell him to measure you for a suit and free pair of trousers--- the price to be $12.00 for the suit and pants.

On the right side of the door I show a 16 oz. black unfinished worsted made in the most famous mill of the Pawtucket Valley, sold by tailors all over this country for $28 to $40. Examine it: if you find it to be all I represent it, call my salesman, tell him to measure you for a suit with free trousers and the price is $12.00 for the suit and pants.

SUBURBAN BARGAIN DAY.
The board of trade is making a good move in its endeavor to establish a suburban bargain day in Lowell. Sufficient inducements can be offered to bring a large number of suburbanites into the city once a week. The railroad service may be increased if necessary to accommodate the patrons on any particular line; but that will be necessary only when the undertaking has been boomed to a successful issue.

SPEAKER CANNON REASSURED.
It looks now as if Speaker Cannon is assured of reelection. The members of the house, however, will make it uncomfortable for Mr. Cannon if he undertakes to use his power in an arbitrary manner to suppress any discussion or legislation which he considers distasteful to the republican party. Cannon is a rank partisan and he will go the limit unless he be tripped up by the opposition. The so called "insurgents" in the republican party are not of much account, and if Cannon is to be restrained in his czar-like policy, it must be as a result of democratic opposition.

A WORD TO THE REPRESENTATIVES.
It is reported that some of the Lowell delegation to the legislature are opposed to the new charter. Any member who would oppose this movement for a new charter should be retired at the next election.
If any member does not approve the entire document, he should offer amendments to make it to his liking rather than oppose it in toto. The representative who is not manly enough to do that is not fit to represent any district in Lowell.

THE STANDARD OIL CASE.
The Standard Oil case has been dropped by the federal government in spite of all the talk there has been about the twenty-nine million dollar fine and the outrage as President Roosevelt called it of remitting that fine.
It seems to be up to the individual states to frame anti-trust laws that will prohibit the operation of trusts within their borders. The state of Texas and other western states have framed anti-trust laws for this purpose, laws that have already been successfully applied against the Standard Oil company. When the federal courts fail to do their duty it devolves upon the states individually to carry on the fight.

SUNDAY PICTURE SHOWS.
We are glad to note that Mayor Brown has at last seen the light in regard to allowing pictures shows to run on Sundays. "The Sunday picture shows," he is reported as saying, "must stop." That is right, Mr. Mayor. Now, keep to your decision and do not hither with public hearings on future applications at which the ministers, you say, will have an equal chance to be heard.

This community will not stand for a continuance of the picture shows on Sunday, no matter how many hearings may be held or what may be said at the hearings.

If any citizen wants a license to do what is wrong and demoralizing to the community, why should a public hearing be called to enable the mayor to decide whether such license should be granted?

Let the prohibition of Sunday picture shows be put in force without any strings to it and without any chance of evasion.

TAKING POWER FROM THE PEOPLE.

"We don't want the new charter because it takes power away from the people."

That is a frequent expression among people in certain quarters when discussing the new charter bill. Because the bill provides for the appointment by the mayor of a few officials who have heretofore been elected by the city council, we are told there is a drive to take power away from the people. In point of fact this so called board of trade charter gives the people five times as much power over the city government as they possess under the present charter. How much power have the people over a superintendent of streets at the present time? That official is controlled by nobody except the men who elect him, the aldermen and councilmen, and that is why there is so much deadwood in some of the departments. These officials elected by the city council are dogged by councilmen and aldermen in the interests of their constituents. With these "statesmen" it is a matter of securing reelection or paying political debt, and the men who have a political pull are the only ones who can get a job. It has even gone so far that men who are of no use as workmen are held on the pay-roll often when not needed, and some of them have even gone so far as to tell the superintendent that he dare not fire them. Wherein have the people any power under such a system? The politicians can get the jobs for their friends whether these friends can do a day's work or not.

The alternative of election by the people would not help matters very much. The voters cannot select the most competent man for head of any department. A man with a political pull but wholly without any business qualification for the office may secure the nomination and then the voters have no choice but to elect him.

Were the mayor given the appointing power he could deliberately select the best man available for each office, and if he failed the blame would fall upon his head. If things went wrong the mayor would be held responsible, and he would thus take care to look after the interests of the people. If he proved incompetent, recalcitrant or dishonest, the people have the remedy in the "Recall."

Some of the opponents of this new charter try to minimize the value of the recall, but it is one of the most potent weapons for good government ever placed in the hands of the voters. They have never had it and yet they say that in slightly increasing the mayor's powers and vastly increasing the people's powers, the power is being taken away from the people.

This is a fallacy, a falsehood put in circulation by politicians who might lose part of their pull if the new charter were adopted.

If the wage earners, the real people, not the bums and loafers, will consider their own interests they will readily see that the centering of responsibility will put the business of the city on a business basis, will enable the officials to see that the money appropriated is wisely spent. What does this mean but for the best interests of the community at large, for the wage earners and the business men alike, but not for the grafters and the loafers.

SEEN AND HEARD

The name of "Yankee" Locke is recalled by an old program of a show at the Museum which was located where the Hildreth building now stands. The program dates as far back as November, 1846. The program reads: Two Nights More!

Last nights of the beautiful drama of "Madeline," or "The Child of the Regiment," concluding with the laughable farce called "The Omnibus." A foot-note reads as follows: In consequence of the immense preparation attendant upon the opening of the New Museum, the manager has been compelled to defer it for a few nights, in order to perfect its appointments and render it as desirable a place of AMUSEMENT AS ANY IN THE COUNTRY. The casts were as follows: Madeline, or The Child of the Regiment: Supplied, an old sergeant, Mr. Johnson; Andrew, Mr. Locke; Gamard, Mr. Rogers; Corporal, Mr. Davis; Drummer, Mr. Warner; First Soldier, Mr. Johnson; Madeline, the Child of the Regiment, Mrs. Gorman; Marchioness, Mrs. Gorman.

The Omnibus, or Ten Miles from Town: Pat Rooney, Mr. Rogers; Mr. Leger, Mr. Locke; Mr. Dobbs, Mr. Davis; Master Jimmy Dobbs, Mr. Gorman; Mrs. Dobbs, Mrs. Groves; Julia, Mrs. Gorman. Tickets admitting two persons at once, 25 cents. No boys admitted unless accompanied by parents or guardians.

It has been said that the best way to teach a man to swim is to throw him overboard. It would not do with some men, however; they would be too lazy to come to the top to be rescued. On the other hand, there is now and then a man who can be made to forget his troubles and to help himself if you can only convince him that he is receiving outside aid. A well known New York man tells of such an individual. The individual in this case was a stranded actor. He had been without employment for two months, and he looked for the part. By virtue of maintaining a vigorous correspondence he finally managed to obtain an engagement with a theatrical company that was playing in a town 25 miles away. He did not have enough money to pay his railroad fare and so he proceeded to do what inexperienced travelers generally do under such circumstances, namely, to walk. After he had tramped for about one-third of his journey he began to grow footsore and weary. Hees introduced the soles of his aching feet to the rough spots in the road. Blisters formed. The actor's limbs wavered and wobbled. He became intensely tired. Finally giving up in despair, he threw himself down in the shade of a roadside tree. Near at hand was a carter, and as the actor lay on the ground wondering how he was either to get on in his journey or back where he started, a camel boat hove in sight. It was pulled by an ancient horse, and progressed slowly. As it came toward the actor, it seemed to him that perhaps the owner might help him on toward his destination. He suggested this idea to the captain himself. "I must get there tonight," he said, "and I'm too tired to take another step. If you will help me I will gladly work my passage." The camel boatman nodded. "All right," he said, "and to do it, just load the camel." "At last," he exclaimed, "the actor in his most dramatic manner. "At last, I am saved!"

Men and Women Suffering with "Nerves" Read This

The impairment of the nervous force in men and women is first manifested by extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, dread, worry and anxiety without reason, trembling of the hands and limbs, with the slightest exertion, heart palpitation, constipation, kidney trouble, and a general inability to act rationally at all times as others with health in their bodies do. This, if neglected, leads to despondency, and even insanity, a condition, making the likelihood of a cure more and more difficult, while frequently locomotor ataxia, "blind staggers," paralysis and even insanity are a direct result of neglecting to increase the life-giving nerve force.
A simple home treatment has been provided which, if taken in time, will certainly work wonders. The mixture can be prepared at home by obtaining the four ingredients separately, and the embarrassment or difficulty which most sensitive people labor is thus avoided. The ingredients are pure and used in various prescriptions.
In a half pint bottle get three ounces of scum-scraper compound and add to this one ounce compound fluid, half pint, and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence, carded, and one ounce of the same compound (not carded); mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at retiring.
This contains no opiates whatever and may also be used by men and women who suffer with their nervous and a certain certainty of prompt and lasting benefits.

STEAMER DIMOCK

Preparation to Float Her Today
Mayor Brown to Grant No More Licenses

CHATHAM, March 12.—Preparations were begun today for the floating of the stranded steamer H. E. Dimock, now lying broadside on the beach at Nauset where she ran for shelter after having her hull stove in by a collision with the steamer Horatio Hall on Thursday. The weather conditions early today had changed very little from yesterday, a brisk northeast wind still blowing, although probably with not so much strength. The task of putting the Dimock into service again was considered today a serious proposition. Her position was very unfavorable for the wreckers. She was lying broadside on her port side, with her bow to the shore and her stern to the sea. In order to repair the hole in her side it was thought that it would be necessary to lighten the vessel of her cargo and roll her over on her starboard side. The tug Orin and the tugboat with the lighter Fairmount and the tugboat cutter Greenham were at the scene today and other wrecking apparatus was expected to arrive later. The captain and crew of the Dimock, who all told remained on board their vessel throughout the night. In the morning the wind should blow from the eastward and a gale spring up, which would impart the lives of the men, a stout hawser was stretched between the steamer and the shore and ready to serve as a life line.

No effort had been made to relieve the ship side of the wrecked steamer. Horatio Hall, a tugboat, was on the scene, but the sea continued to be rough, and although apparently not too far from the shore, however, it is expected that her pilot house and all her superstructure will be swept away. The tugboat steamer Azalea was standing by the Hall today ready to begin the work of placing lights aboard the wreck and mark her position with buoys.

COURT DECISION STANDS
The decision in the case of Nelson Morris Co. against Joseph P. and Mary Quigley, an action of contract, which was heard some time ago before Justice Hadley, will stand. Lawyer James P. Owens, representing the defense, petitioned that the case be reopened on one of the points concerned, but Lawyer J. Joseph O'Connell, representing the plaintiffs, objected and his objection was sustained, the court allowing the original decision to stand.

More than one hundred thousand dollars have been expended in making Linonine, the Flax Seed Emulsion, the most perfect food medicine in the world. It is not a secret remedy—the formula is on every bottle. It is a palatable emulsion—sweet as cream—made of the oil compressed cold from the finest, selected Flax Seeds.

How Sickness Comes
Consumption first shows in a cough. Bronchitis is accompanied by a cough. The first stage of La Grippe is a "cold." Pneumonia is preceded by cough and violent "cold."

Group—that terrible malady of childhood—comes solely as a condition of a "cold."

By acting promptly you can escape most fatal sicknesses by treating a "cold" while it is still a "cold" and by curing a cough when it is nothing but a cough. For many years physicians have been successfully treating Coughs, "Colds," Bronchitis and Consumption with this great Emulsion of Flax Seed, LINONINE. Everyone knows the value of a Flax Seed poultice—the power of Flax Seed tea. Flax Seed is the richest in food medicine. For brain or muscle—for the ailing and the weak—for coughs, "colds" and their complications—it does all that medicine can.

Linonine presents the healing, body-building elements of Flax Seed as nothing else in the whole history of medicine has ever done, with special efficacy in all wasting diseases, particularly in Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption.

The First Bottle is Free

To every sick person who suffers from a Cough, "Cold", Bronchitis, Consumptive or an ache or pain anywhere in the body and who has not tried LINONINE (the Flax Seed Emulsion), we offer a full bottle free. Not a mere sample but a regular package of standard size and quality. Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity. Do it today. All druggists have Linonine or they will get it for you.

DOCTORS HEARD

Investigation of Lynn Hospital

LYNN, March 12.—The earlier hours of last night's hearing in connection with the charges of neglect and inadequate treatment of patients at the hospital for contagious diseases was given over to witnesses who believed the hospital to be properly conducted. Although a majority of those testified that their experience in connection with the hospital showed that the institution was properly supplied with nurses, and that these gave all necessary attention to patients, the cross-examination of several by Mayor Jas. E. Rich and others brought out points in variance to this.

Many of the witnesses were physicians who were attached to the hospital at some time or were connected with it temporarily through having patients there. Among these there was diversity of opinion as to whether the attendance of nurses during the night was necessary. But few among them said this was so, though these few said instances where non-attendance had brought about a serious and sometimes fatal condition of patients.

A complete refutation of the charges against her, made in several of the affidavits, was made by Mrs. Mary Chase, nurse of the hospital. Especially, she denied charges of diverting drugs and other gifts intended for patients.

The statement of Jonathan Beavins, superintendent of the hospital, that he had received a letter from the board of health at one time urging the need of economy at the hospital, gave rise to a discussion in which Chairman William McKenna, chairman of the board, and Alderman John McKenna, chairman of last year's finance commission, participated. The former admitted writing the letter, stating that he qualified it by adding, "Without using where plenty is needed," and Alderman McKenna said that no requirements had been made upon the board of health and that it had exceeded the hospital appropriation of $10,000 by more than one thousand dollars.

Mrs. Mary Condon, a nurse at the hospital, in the course of cross-examination by Mayor Rich, admitted her lack of instruction and practice in administering anti-toxin to diphtheria patients. She stated that prior to coming to the Lynn hospital several years ago, she had never administered anti-toxin, but that a month after becoming attached to the institution she had done so. Mrs. Condon denied that one of the diphtheria patients at the hospital was forced to drag herself to the bathroom during the night when she was straggling, so that she might get water.

How to Cure a Terrific Headache.

Many people suffer with an aching head week after week, occasionally getting relief from so-called headache powders and nerve-rusting drugs. They never get cured because they start wrong. Such people should do a little commonsense thing—simply the result of a warning signal, of a far more serious trouble. Usually it means bad blood poisoned by an inactive or sluggish liver. Headache sufferers are often nervous, cross and irritable. Their sleep is disturbed and digestion impaired. The liver doesn't do its work right, and the bile elements poison both nerves and brain.

$50,000 SUIT WAS THROWN OUT BY THE COURT

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 12.—A $50,000 libel suit, instituted by Father Clarke, pastor of the Roman Catholic parish at Torbay, against the Plain Dealer, a local newspaper, just after the general elections in November, was thrown out of court yesterday by Justice Emerson of the supreme court.

The newspaper charged that several clergymen, including Father Clarke, had used their influence in behalf of the bond government and had displayed partisanship.

In court yesterday Father Clarke admitted that he had solicited votes in half of the Bonites, whereupon Sir James Winter, counsel for the newspaper, asked for a non-suit, contending that the criticism of the priest referred to his political and not his sacerdotal actions. Justice Emerson agreed and ordered the case dismissed. The editor of the newspaper and Justice Emerson, who is a close friend of Fr. Clarke, are Roman Catholics.

JOHN A. ROOSEVELT DEAD

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 12.—John Ashwin Roosevelt, a distant cousin of former President Theodore Roosevelt, died at his home near this city yesterday after an illness of several months.

Mr. Roosevelt was a noted yachtsman and was the owner of a fleet of yachts in the Hudson River Ice Yacht club. He owned the famous Ice, at one time the largest ice yacht in the world and for several seasons holder of the world's championship pennant.

JUDGE SCOTT DEAD

WOONSOCKET, R. I., March 12.—Judge Livingston Scott of the Woonsocket probate court and past department commander of the Rhode Island Grand Army of the Republic, died of pneumonia yesterday. He was born in Blackstone in 1832 and was educated at Brown university.

Electric car traffic through North Billerica was held up for a time last night owing to the breaking of an axle on one of the Western bound cars at Perry's corner. The accident happened shortly before ten o'clock. Word was sent to Lowell and a wrecking crew was sent on the scene and after making temporary repairs the car was sent back to Lowell under its own power.

While the outward bound track was blocked by the disabled car, it was necessary for out-bound cars to use the inbound rail for a considerable distance. The car was manned by Conductor Dave Curtin and Motorman Thomas Towers.

The Business Girls club of the Y. W. C. A. last night listened to an interesting talk on "Initiative" by Miss Anna W. Devereaux. She pointed out to the young ladies the qualities of character and habits of patience, loyalty and responsiveness of sympathy and tact, that are found in no school curriculum, but can be individually cultivated, will often make for success, while, failing these qualities, many who are technically equipped will fail.

DAYTON, O., March 12.—The home of the Wright brothers produced another claimant to high honors in the field of aeronautics in the person of the inventor, W. J. Richardson, whose plans for a flying machine are based on novel and original lines. Mr. Richardson made a test of the invention yesterday in a field north of this city, starting from the ground without artificial aid rising to a height of over 300 feet and remaining in the air for 35 minutes. The Richardson machine was under perfect control at all times and his claim that he could have remained in the air for 24 hours apparently was well founded.

Inventor Richardson claims there exists no further mechanical defects in perfect aviation. Representatives of the French government have been negotiating with Mr. Richardson with relation to experimentation abroad.

Presided Over Meeting of Hardware Dealers

SPRINGFIELD, March 12.—Five hundred members of the New England Hardware association were in attendance at the annual meeting of the organization which opened last yesterday. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor William H. Sargent, who presented them with a "key to the city." The key is made of wood and is about 10 feet long, and its presentation was the occasion of much laughter and applause. Samuel H. Thompson of Lowell, president of the association, responded to the address of welcome. He also presented his annual report in which he declared "I believe we are facing an era of prosperity such as the sun has never shone on before. The last great obstacle to overcome is the tariff. Let us hope that this congress may have the wisdom to appoint a permanent tariff commission."

THE "INSURGENTS" HELD A MEETING BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

WASHINGTON, March 12.—For more than three hours last night the Republican "insurgents" discussed behind closed doors the proposition they propose to make next Monday, when the next congress convenes, to the adoption of the rules of the last house to govern it.

The leaders of the movement expressed entire satisfaction with the result of the meeting, claiming that at least 10 more members would vote with them against the rules. It is known that much of the time at the meeting was devoted to discussion of a compromise with the organization forces. The suggestion was made that the insurgents enter into a compromise with the regulars whereby a committee would be appointed at the beginning of the next session to revise the rules of the house.

WANTS $10,000Suit Results From the Larchmont Disaster

PROVIDENCE, March 12.—The loss of the Joy line steamer Larchmont and 181 of her passengers and crew in Black Island sound on the night of Feb. 11, 1907, was recalled yesterday by the filing of two suits in the superior court against the Joy Line Steamship company.

The plaintiffs are Emma Winkler of Kossor, Austria, her four children, and Edith Steiner, also of Austria, and her three children. The Winklers being suit for $10,000 as damages to compensate them in a measure for the death of Mrs. Winkler's husband, Benjamin, who was a passenger on the Larchmont.

A claim for the same amount is made by the Steiners for the loss of Benjamin Steiner, the husband and father. The plaintiffs allege that the loss of life was due to the carelessness and negligent manner with which the Larchmont was navigated.

The Larchmont was sunk while on her way from this city to New York by colliding with the schooner Harry P. Knowlton, bound from New York for St. John. The schooner was badly damaged, but was saved.

There is a difference of opinion in legal circles whether damages can be collected for the deaths of passengers. In the case of the steamer Portland, which was lost in a storm in 1895 and probably not as the result of a collision, suits for damages brought by relatives of the passengers were thrown out of court, and not a cent was ever collected. The circumstances in the case of the Larchmont are of course different, although negligence in leaving port in the face of an impending gale was advanced in the Portland suits.

The Larchmont was formerly the steamer Cumberland of the International Steamship company and ran for years on the route between Boston, Portland, Eastport, Me., and St. John.

MAGNESS FREEDTHROUGH THE EFFORTS OF HIS WIFE

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.—By persistent and untiring efforts, Mrs. Magness, formerly Miss Ada Gorman, daughter of the late Senator Gorman of Maryland, has obtained the release of her husband from the navy prison at Portsmouth, N. H., and the couple is now traveling in Canada.

Charles J. Magness was recently arrested as a deserter from the navy and sentenced to one year imprisonment by the navy department.

His defence was that he suffered from a sort of delirium as the result of his love for the girl he married. Magness obtained his release on account of good behavior after serving one-third of his term.

BROKEN LEGDID NOT PREVENT MAN FROM MARRYING

NASHUA, N. H., March 12.—Friends who have been calling upon Ann W. Lafayette at his home, 27 Spring street, in this city, during the time that he has been confined to his bed with a broken leg, were surprised yesterday when they learned that despite his injuries he had married his housekeeper, Thursa Jennie Traverser, the ceremony having occurred on March 4.

It had been known right along that Mrs. Traverser and Mr. Lafayette planned to be married in the fall, but they stole a march on their friends by calling in the Rev. W. H. Bolster of the Pilgrim Congregational church on inauguration day and having the knot tied.

The groom was propped up on his sickbed while the ceremony was being performed. Mr. Lafayette who is a carpenter, sustained the injury by a fall from a ladder three weeks ago.

COULD NOT CURE WEEPING ECZEMA

Disease Began over Ear and Spread till Face and Neck were Raw—Itching, Inflammation and Soreness were Terrible—Lasted Over a Year and All Treatments Failed

UNTIL CUTICURA AGAIN PROVED GREAT SUCCESS

"Eczema began over the top of my ear. It cracked and then began to spread. I had three different doctors and tried several things, but they did me no good. At last one side of my face and my neck clear up to my hair were raw. The water ran out of it so that I had to wear medicated cotton, and it was so inflamed and sore that I had to put a piece of cloth over my neck to keep the water from it, and it would stain the cloth a sort of yellow. The eczema spread so that it seemed as though I could tear my face all to pieces. The disease began in the fall and I did everything for it until the next winter. Then I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and it was not more than three months before it was all healed up. I still use the Cuticura Resolvent. This once in a while to cleanse the blood. I am very thankful that I tried Cuticura, and I can recommend it to any one. Miss Ann Pearsons, Northfield, Vt., Dec. 19, '07."

JOHN WHITEHEADLectured on Spiritual and Mental Healing

John Whitehead, A.M., Th. D., of Boston, gave the second in his series of lectures on "Spiritual and Mental Healing," last night in Middlesex hall. His subject was "Casting Out Demons, and Its Relation to Modern Psychology." In part, he said:

"Any one who has ever read the literature of the first centuries before and after the coming of our Lord, or the history of ancient nations, is familiar with the universal belief at that time, that spirits had influence over the minds of people in the world. It is clearly embodied in the new testament, although not so much in the old testament.

"The New Testament is full of statements of spirits taking possession of and controlling the body. A person so taken was said to be possessed or obsessed of devils, but the translation of this is incorrect. It should be demoniac. These writings discriminate between people possessed of demons and lunatics. A lunatic is different from a man who is obsessed. His mind is unbalanced. An obsessed person is controlled by an unseen force and he has no control over himself. For the time being there is a clear-cut distinction.

"The ancients clearly believed in obsession and that it was caused by demons.

"The question now arises, whether these cases spoken of in the New Testament are the product of the interference of evil spirits with the normal mind or to modern diseases now ascribed to other causes. Dr. Worcester says that a modern physician would diagnose such cases as epilepsy or hysteria and he believes that Christ was ignorant of psychology when he shared the popular belief of the time.

"There is a man who stands at the head of a church and professes to believe that Christ was divine yet he speaks of his ignorance of psychology. Christ's mission was to bring to the world a healing and health to the soul and yet one of his ministers, accuses him of being ignorant of psychology.

"Even those who do not believe that he was divine, say that he had knowledge far above that of the ordinary man. Here is actual testimony in the New Testament as to the reality of these things. Modern scientists have discarded explanations of these cases as superstitious, but they have established phenomena previously discarded by others. Today obsessions are recognized by some physicians, but there is a tendency to ascribe them to mental causes.

"My purpose is to bring to you the teachings of Swedenborg on these questions. Christ taught that there were obsessions by evil spirits and he cast them out with a word. These exorcisms were in use 6000 years before Christ, in Babylonia and Egypt. It was the universal belief before and after Christ. Swedenborg claims to have been introduced into a state so that he was in two worlds at the same time. At this time he could investigate the spiritual world as he had the natural world. No man ever did this before.

RICHARD KEEFERESIGNS AS PROBATION OFFICER IN BOSTON

BOSTON, March 12.—Richard Keefe, probation officer in the municipal court since 1891, resigned yesterday, and Albert J. Sargent, an assistant officer since April, 1905, was appointed to the place.

Mr. Keefe has been probation officer also in the superior criminal court, and the great increase in business in the courts rendered it impossible for him to perform the duties at both places.

His resignation caused a sensation at the courthouse, however. He received $2000 a year as officer in the lower court and $1000 as officer in the superior court, the municipal court the superior court. He now holds the latter position.

For the first time since the establishment of a probation system in the superior court, the municipal court and the superior court have separate, independent probation officers. Mr. Keefe as probation officer of the superior court was called on to pass upon cases that he considered in the lower court.

That part of the probation system was regarded as objectionable by many.

BIG CHANGESMADE BY THE DETROIT DRIVING CLUB

DETROIT, Mich., March 12.—Two radical changes are made in the announcement by the Detroit Driving club of its stake program for the opening week of the grand circuit, July 26 to 30.

The Chamber of Commerce pays of $5000 for the 24th class instead of the 21st, as it has been for two years. The Wolverine handicap, a free-for-all racing event of $5000 is added. Horses with records of 2:04 or faster pay 5 per cent; 2:04 1-4 to 2:05 pay 4 per cent; 2:05 1-4 to 2:06 pay 3 per cent; slower than 2:06 pay 2 1-2 per cent.

The Merchants and Manufacturers' stake of $10,000 remains for the 224 trotters, and there is a renewal of the $3000 event for 241 trotters.

The Wolverine is to be two in three and the other events three in five heats.

National association rules govern, except that two or more horses owned by one man or in the same stable may start in a race. Entries to close early next week.

WIFE MURDERIS CHARGED AGAINST WEST HOBOKEN MAN

NEW YORK, March 12.—Henry Whelan, a driver, was arrested at his home in West Hoboken, N. Y., yesterday, charged with the murder of his young wife. The woman was found by the police lying on her bed with her throat crushed, her throat cut and her arms and body badly slashed.

Whelan was living with the girl who found in the apartment, a note purporting to have been written by Whelan, which read: "I killed her at 12 o'clock this morning. The Whelans, two children, a boy of 9 years and a girl of 8, slept quietly in the rooms in an adjoining room, while the tragedy was being enacted."

Whelan is 26 years old and his wife was 22. The police say Whelan was jealous of his wife.

GENERAL COURT

Bill for Constitutional Prohibition

DISTRICT ATTORNEY BILL IS KILLED

Butler Ames Railroad Petition Withdrawn—Bill to Have Half Liquor License Money Turned Over to State

BOSTON, March 12.—At the state house yesterday afternoon, after a brief executive session, the committee on constitutional amendments, with three dissenters, voted to report the resolve for an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage.

This sweeping amendment, which, in terms, absolutely prohibits the manufacture in Massachusetts of any liquor whether to be used here or in any other state or country, was petitioned for by Elizabeth P. Gordon and others. The committee gave a hearing on the subject February 24 last, and members of the W. C. T. U. were heard in favor and representatives of the interests were heard in opposition. It was an annual hearing. There was no especially strong interest manifested in the matter this year, and it was regarded with no greater degree of seriousness than in other years.

The report of the committee therefore comes as a distinct surprise on Beacon Hill. No attempt has been made for constitutional prohibition in this state since 1859, when a similar amendment was rejected by the people by a majority of almost 50,000. No license contributing the largest majorities against the amendment. State officials and members of the legislature generally, outside of the committee, who heard of the committee's vote yesterday afternoon could scarcely credit the news.

After a heated debate the state senate yesterday afternoon practically killed the bill to provide a second district attorney for Middlesex county by referring it to the next general court.

The bill had been ordered to a third reading last week after a debate in which it was opposed by Senator Grimes and others. The main opposition was that it was a measure simply framed to make a place for ex-Representative Horace Hardy of Arlington, a son of Judge Hardy of the superior court.

Reports in the Senate

In the senate these reports of committees were read:

Joint judiciary—Bill to provide that an employee who reports a defect in machinery and is afterward injured by reason of such defect and neglect of his employer to remedy it, shall not be held to have assumed the risk of such injury.

Federal relations—Reference to next general court of the petition of Henry H. Rice for a commission to represent the Commonwealth at the Alaska-Yukon exposition at Seattle.

Street railways—Leave to withdraw to Butler Ames at his own request on his petition to authorize the Boston, Lowell & Lawrence electric railroad to construct an elevated railway.

Liquor law—Bill to require that half of the fees for liquor licenses shall be paid into the state treasury. Senator Shaw, Representative Kempf, Davidson, Lyman and W. H. O'Brien, dissent.

Bill to amend the law relative to licensing theatrical exhibitions so that it shall not apply to entertainments in private houses.

The rule was suspended to admit the petition of the selectmen of Falmouth that a session of the 1st district court of Barnstable be held in that town once each week.

All the labor bills reported upon adversely by the committee on judiciary and labor were assigned to Tuesday, March 16.

The senate finally killed the recalled enacted bill to pay the widow of Iring T. Farnham of Newton the balance of his salary as city engineer.

Mufflers for Motor Boats.

After a brief discussion, resumed from Wednesday, the house ordered to a third reading, on a voice vote, the bill to require muffs or under-water exhausts on motor boats. The bill was favored by Burns of Plymouth, Dorman of Lynn and Barrett of Gloucester, and was opposed by Holman of Attleboro.

In the house these committees' reports were received:

Cities—Leave to withdraw on the bill to enlarge the powers of the school committee of Waltham with respect to physical education.

Judiciary—Leave to withdraw on the bill to repeal the present law prohibiting the enticement of seamen to desert or leave their vessels.

Town—Leave to withdraw on the bill to establish a fire department and a fire commissioner for the town of Milton.

CLEVER BOXING

Another Good Card at Gladstone Club

The Gladstone club held a regular meeting last evening with about 600 members present and, as usual, a first class program. There was an added feature not down on the card that made a big hit, and it was the first appearance of the Gladstone Glee club, an aggregation of about one dozen near singers, who entertained between the rounds with a series of solemn choruses which were well received. The glee club was voted to be all right only it needs a few new recruits.

Ross and Merrill, the principal attraction mentioned on the card, did not appear owing to the illness of Ross, and when substitutes were announced in the persons of Mike Grady of Southbridge, who recently boxed Fred Sidney before the club, and Kid McDonald, formerly a B. A. A. amateur champ, but now a full fledged professional, the members were inclined to be a little disappointed for a moment. Once the boys got to it, and that was right off the reel, the disappointment was speedily forgotten and when the affair was over everyone was pleased that the main attraction didn't materialize, for it couldn't have been any better than the Grady-McDonald affair and might not have been as good. Grady was the cleverer of the pair, but he was not in as fine condition as his opponent. McDonald boxed Angus MacDonald at the Armore club last week and hence was in excellent shape. The boys went at it hammer and tongs, McDonald showing a disposition to carry the game to his opponent. Grady showed some very scientific short arm work that mystified McDonald, but the latter was able to take all that came his way without showing any fatigue owing to his fine condition. For 12 rounds without a let-up the pair kept at it, nip and tuck, and when Referee Costello declared it a draw everyone was perfectly satisfied. The semi-final was a four round bout between Young Donohue of this city and Neil Dale of Lawrence, Daily looking some 10 pounds heavier than the Lowell boy. The pair went at it briskly but the Lawrence lad had a big advantage in weight. Donohue showed up so finely that the referee gave him the decision though a draw might have been acceptable for Daly at times appeared to hold back rather than take advantage of his handicap on his opponent. Still it was a most interesting bout throughout.

The second preliminary furnished the comedy of the occasion, and it was good comedy. The contestants were

Slasher Lewis and Castiron Carver, two husky railroad men, who were painted of enthusiasm and strength, though several chips lay on the floor. It was evident that the friends of the pair had talked the matter over for they were there in goodly numbers and each contestant received a mighty welcome as he entered the ring. Carver was much heavier than Lewis, but the latter was quicker and when Carver would attempt to bring one of his latering rams about, Lewis would lunge for the next county and the favor of Carver's swing would completely clear smoke from the interior of the gym. While Carver would be reloading his pile driver, Lewis would run in and bring him in the forefront of the face, and then endeavor back out of harm's way, and at the end of the fourth round everyone said "quite right" when the referee awarded the rosy apple to Lewis. Carver meant well, but he didn't live up to his name, except to carve huge chunks out of the air. The opening bout was between Burke and Carver of Lowell, and Boston and it was an interesting draw. It was announced that at the next meeting one of the principals will be little Andy Daly of Portland, Me., who fought a couple of fine draws with Martin Flaherty. Daly is still doing business with the milks and is a very likely proposition.

WONG TOY

LOCAL CHINAMAN HAS PASSED AWAY

Wong Toy, the Paige street laundry man who has resided in America for 35 years, most of the time in Lowell, cashed his last check a few days ago and went to the rice fields of forbes in the Chinese Kingdom come. He was 59 years of age and had been ill for some time. His condition became so bad that he was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died at Tuesday.

Undertaker John A. Finnegan was sent for and he did the funeral job in true Oriental style. Wong was laid out in a winding sheet while his best clothes were tucked into the casket for future use in the Celestial rice

Indigestion and Misery In Stomach Are Ended Forever

Miserable is the man or woman who suffers from dread indigestion or dyspepsia. There are few diseases which create such misery, long drawn-out suffering, as indigestion. It pursues them before meals, after meals, and between meals; they take it to bed with them. It is with them wherever they go though indigestion is the simplest disease of all to cure. Tell such afflicted ones, dear reader, of Fape's Diapepsin; urge the sufferer to go to any Pharmacy here and give 50 cents for a case. Such a sufferer would ever bless you, because five minutes after taking there would be no more indigestion, no gas, no lump of lead in the stomach, no Heart Burn, or fullness and discomfort, no Belching of Gas or Eructations of sour food, Debilitating Headache, Nausea, Water Brash and other symptoms of a sour, disordered stomach. Fape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat without the aid of the stomach. Diapepsin is a wonderful stomach purifier and splendid to keep the intestines clean and fresh; then your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. Diapepsin will rest the stomach and increase the gastric juices; this is what is mostly needed—more and better digestive juices—and no Gas—then indigestion and all stomach troubles will go. Each 50 cent case contains sufficient to usually thoroughly cure the most chronic dyspepsia.

Incense was burned at the casket while a choir of Chinamen crooned a number of Oriental melodies to drive away the evil spirits and the music was such as would drive away any old kind of spirit that had the misfortune to hear it. Yesterday the remains were taken to Boston accompanied by a large delegation of Chinamen and were placed in a tomb in Mt. Hope cemetery. In the fall the remains will be sent to Canton, China, for burial. The regular monthly meeting of the Law and Order league of Lowell will be held in Y. M. C. A. hall Monday evening, March 15, at 7.45 o'clock. For order president, G. W. Putnam.

NIGHT EDITION BROTHERS ESCAPED

Had Narrow Escape From Being Burned to Death

NEW TARIFF BILL A BIG BOULDER

Republican Senators to Prevents Work on the Study It Massachusetts

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The republican senators on the committee on finance will begin a study of the new tariff bill as soon as copies are obtained. The bill cannot, of course, be officially considered by the committee as a whole until after it has been passed by the house and transferred to the senate in the usual formal manner. It is believed, however, that the house will make some changes in the bill after it is reported from the committee on ways and means and the republican members of the senate committee on finance feel that they will have in the house committee bill as good a basis for their operations as they will have after that measure has received the consideration of the house itself. It is expected many changes will be made in the senate and that most of these will be in the finance committee. If the bill as it comes from the house should fail to give what is considered equal protection to the industries of some of the states there would be undoubtedly a strenuous effort by the senators from those states to restore the desired equilibrium. The thinly populated states of the west are especially interested in the protection of wool, hides, fruits, lead ore, copper, etc., and will unquestionably resist any effort to put any of these articles on the free list.

As the committee on finance is at present constituted the law west is without representation on it. There is little doubt, however, that this defect will be remedied but even though there should be no change in this respect the senators are still confident that the committee would take care of their interests. If it should fail to do so they will take their fight on the senate floor. While Senator Aldrich's hope is to have the bill in shape to be reported soon after it comes from the house, much will depend upon the character of the house measure and the disposition of the members of the finance committee. Unquestionably the controlling desire in the senate will be to make the bill a distinctively protective measure and it is not believed that the republican senators will permit even their desire for haste to cause them to sacrifice this feature of it.

CAPT. JEWELL REACHES BOSTON IN THE TUG CHANDLER

BOSTON, March 12.—After being rescued from their English steamer Captain Jewell of the Horatio Hall, first officer, pilot and crew, deckhand reached Boston today on the tug John Chandler, the trip from Pollock Rip also having occupied twice the ordinary length of time on account of the northwest gale and mountainous seas that prevailed out Cape Cod yesterday. The Chandler, under the command of the captain, managed to make her way up the coast as far as Race Point yesterday afternoon but the northwest gale which swept across Massachusetts bay at the rate of fifty miles an hour kicked up such a terrific sea that the powerful tug was not able to weather it and was forced to turn back. When the gale moderated during the night the Chandler made another and successful attempt to reach this port. Upon landing Captain Jewell left immediately for the headquarters of the Maine S. & C. Co., the Hall's owners in New York.

MEMORIAL TABLET LOWELL PEOPLE OFFER CON- TRIBUTIONS FOR IT

In a letter to Mayor Brown by Asa C. Russell relative to the proposed memorial tablet in memory of Private C. A. Taylor who was killed while going through Baltimore with the Sixth regiment, Mr. Russell refers to General Jones' interest in the matter, and says:

"General Jones in his communication says if the city government or the citizens of Lowell would not pay for the tablet, he would, it seems to me that the citizens would not only be willing, but anxious to bear the expense. If it is to be paid for by the citizens, put me down for $25."

Another letter received by the mayor is from Henry M. Woodward, president of the Old Sixth regiment, who addressed to Gen. Jones and was turned over to the mayor. Mr. Woodward says that through the medium of Private Taylor's musket his folks were located in Vermont.

Mayor Brown suggests that any persons desiring of contributing to the expense of the Taylor memorial before definite action is taken by the city council, might send their contributions to the superintendent of state aid, George E. Worton.

MME. NORDICA

Contests the Will of Her Aunt

CAMBRIDGE, March 12.—Madame Lillian Nordica, the singer, has joined with several others in a determination to contest the will of Mrs. Annie Allen of Malden, Madame Nordica's aunt, who died Feb. 21st last. A notice of such contest was filed in the probate court here today, the other contestants being Anna Baldwin of Boston, Imogene Costello of Los Angeles and Iona Walker of New York, all relatives of Mrs. Allen. In her will Mrs. Allen left nothing to any of her own relatives, stating that they were to be provided with money. She left two lots of land to the Malden hospital and the bulk of the estate of about $100,000, to relatives of her late husband. An unusual feature of her will was a provision that all the beneficiaries should make promise under oath not to devote any part of their bequests to religious purposes. Robert W. Light of Boston represents the contestants. The executors of the will are Alexander M. Greer of Malden and Alexander Lothrop of Boston. A hearing on the case will be held on March 23.

MAN KILLED HE WAS STRUCK BY FREIGHT TRAIN

MALDEN, March 12.—Joseph Grant, a Boston Elevated railway signalman stationed at the Main street crossing of the Saugus branch of the eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, was struck and killed by an extra freight train from Portland early today. It is believed that Grant was on the train coming and that when he went out to his post he was struck by the cylinder head of the locomotive and was forced against a nearby hydrant. The body was discovered by an electric car conductor a few moments after the train had passed. Grant was 29 years of age and boarded in Everett. He is survived by a son.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Walter J. Rigelow, Yale '71, captain of the '06 and '07 varsity nines, recently gave his views in the Yale News on professional baseball coaching at Yale and the poor hitters that Yale has had under his tutelage. He said: "Yale has returned to the professional system and I believe she has done wisely. If the men who take up boxing, boxing, wrestling, running and fencing are given the benefit of professional coaching there is no reason why the baseball men should be handicapped when they meet opponents who have been trained by professionals. 'System in athletics is everything, and system is best secured by employing a professional who can give his entire time to teaching the fine points of any given sport. We have our coaching system at Yale, and when we occasionally we lose a race we at once conclude that the other fellows were a 'bit better than we. We do not think of condemning the system or that grand teacher of it—John Kennedy. 'If we have a baseball system at New Haven or so would seem to indicate that it has a weak spot, and that spot is poor batting. All Yale nines field well, but their batting is usually poor. "It has been my fortune, either as a participant or as a spectator, to see nearly all of the important games since 1874. I do not, therefore, speak off-hand when I say that I have not in many years seen a good batter who has been taught to hit white at Yale. On the other hand, I have known a number of boys who were good batters before going to college and who seemed to forget how to hit a ball after they had made the nine. "It is art to coach a poor batter, but I believe in letting a natural hitter alone, no matter if his position at bat is contrary to all the rules of form. He can hit the ball and can hit it hard, and that is what he is there for. To my mind, one of the chief reasons why Yale loses so many games is because her good batters are coached too much. "The captain of the nine should be supreme, and a word from him to the professional coach would at once partly remedy this defect in our system."

ASKS WARRANT

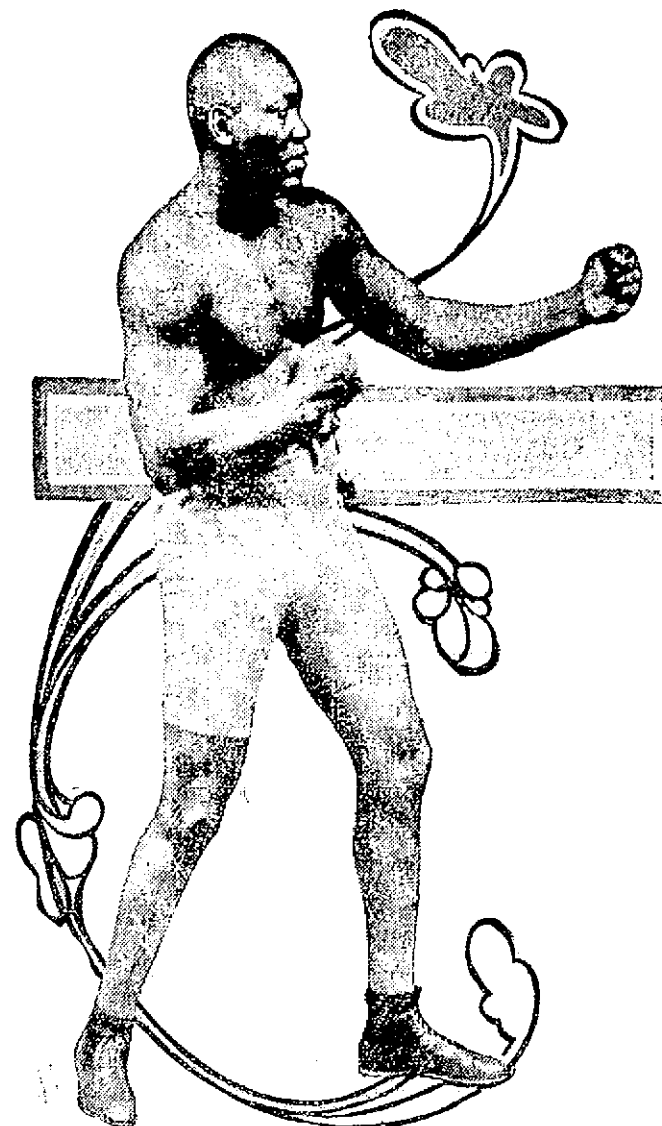

For Arrest of Mayor of Lawrence

LAWRENCE, March 12.—Mr. John J. Donovan, counsel for Superintendent of Streets John C. Needham, applied to Clerk Noyes of the police court yesterday morning for a warrant for the arrest of Mayor White, on the charge of holding up the street department payrolls illegally. A conference followed, at which the seriousness of arraignment the mayor was discussed and it was agreed that recourse to the civil court would be the better way out of the difficulty.

It is therefore considered probable that a number of suits will at once be instituted against the city to recover the wages of a large number of men employed by the street department since the suspension order went into effect a month ago.

JOHNSON CHALLENGES JEFFRIES

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 12.—The arrival of Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight champion, in this country from Australia and his blunt challenge to Jim Jeffries have caused renewed interest in the heavyweight situation. Johnson, unscrupulously declaring his willingness to fight Jeff or any other man in a 21-foot ring, "I want to hear this talk about Jeffries claiming the championship," said Johnson on his arrival in Vancouver, B. C. "Why, when a mayor leaves office he's an ex-mayor. Isn't he? When a champion leaves the ring, he's an ex-champion. If Jeffries wants to try and get the championship back, I'm willing to take him on. In all the notices I have seen about a fight between us it is what Jeffries will take. What is the matter with what Johnson will take? The champion, ain't it? I want to hear this talk about Jeffries claiming the championship," said Johnson on his arrival in Vancouver, B. C. "Why, when a mayor leaves office he's

CHICAGO, March 12.—Under the federal statutes there is no alternative but the extradition of Delavan Smith and Charles Williams to the District of Columbia on the libel suit brought against them by the government.

Charles W. Miller, newly appointed district attorney in Indianapolis, who has been in Chicago, made this statement just before he left for home. He declares the Indianapolis defendants will be tried with a subpoena to appear for trial and that if resistance is made further process would be invoked by the government.

"The federal law on the subject is specific," said Mr. Miller.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

At the regular meeting of Centralville lodge, I. O. O. F., Noble Grand Twombly occupied the chair and nine candidates were put through the initiatory degree. At the next meeting the first degree will be conferred on ten candidates.

Div. 25, A. O. H., met last night in regular session. President Hubert McQuade in the chair. There were two propositions for membership and one member was initiated. There was a lively discussion concerning the celebration of the anniversary of the division which will take place in April.

Stationary Firemen
The regular meeting of the local H. S. B. of Stationary Firemen was held last night with President H. J. Gallagher in the chair, and considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Two applications for membership were received and four were admitted into the union. The different committees appointed reported favorably on the matters assigned to them and the members present were unanimous in urging the non-union firemen to join the local. A general good time is being arranged by the local to take place in the near future.
